Columbus Housewife Off On Flight Around World

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus housewife who wants to be the first woman to fly alone around the world took off for Bermuda today on the first leg of her solo flight.

Mrs. Jerrie Mock, 38-year-old mother of three, lifted her single-engine, red and white Cessna off the runway at Port Columbus at 9:32 a. m. EST.

She estimates the flight time on her first hop will be about seven and a half hours.

"I'll be careful—I'm not going to take any chances," she promised her husband, Russell, two sons, Roger, 17, and Gary, 16, and daughter, Valerie, 3½.

Besides her family, there was a big civic send-off. Gov. James A. Rhodes shook hands with the aviatrix before the take-off.

Also there were wives of two astronauts, Mrs. John H. Glenn Jr., and Mrs. Scott Carpenter. Mrs. Glenn remarked: "Can you imagine starting off over the Pacific in that little plane?"

From Bermuda, Mrs. Mock's schedule, depending upon weather over the Atlantic and condition of her plane, calls for halts at the Azores, Casablanca, Tunis, Cairo, Bahrain Island, Karachi, Bombay, Madras, Singapore, Manila, Guam, Wake, Honolulu, San Francisco and back to Columbus.

Her plane has all the latest radio and navigation equipment plus special fuel tanks. Mrs. Mock has been preparing for the trip for the last year.

high hopes of setting some solo flight records for women.

She'd like to be the first woman to complete a solo flight around the world, in the fastest time for planes in her Cessna's class.

She hopes to do it in 30 days or less, but says that under the Federation Aeronautique internationale she can set some records if she does it within 90 days. The federation has sanctioned her flight.

The years between that fourth grade and today's take-off have been filled with diversions from the childhood ambition. Her pilot's license is only seven years old.

She majored in aeronautical engineering at Ohio State University, but stayed on the ground to marry high school sweetheart Russell Mock in 1945. Two years later Roger was born and, a year after that, Gary.

She kept house, reared her children, studied opera and wrote radio programs about it, co-produced an educational television program for Central Ohio schools and dabbled in photography.

The dream of flying was dormant, but not dead. She was already a pilot when the youngest Mock, Valerie, came along in May 1960.

"I wish I had the opportunity to fly every day. With a household to take care of, it's sometimes difficult," she said. But she flew all through Mexico, to the northern reaches of Canada and to the Bahamas during the past year, all preliminary to today's take-off.

"I haven't thought about anything else for a year and for the last six months I've really been pushing," Mrs. Mock explained.

The long flights were rehearsals for the globe-circling trip "I'll be flying 8, 18 or 20 hours a day, depending upon the winds and all," she said, adding she is going to make the trip "as quickly and safely as possible," and emphasizing the "safely."

Keeping her busy, in addition to piloting the craft, is a book filled with flying regulations for each country she passes and entry requirements for each one of her stops.

When her trip first was announced, she was deluged with letters from persons throughout the country. Most of them offered advice. Some contained religious medals. Others said she was "crazy and ought to stay home."

But the one she showed off came in a decorated envelope addressed to: "Jerrie Mock, the Magellan of Columbus."

Rhodes Seeks New Plan To Aid Industry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has promised an answer by the first of next week to an industrial development dilemma created by an Ohio Supreme Court decision.

The governor referred at a news conference Wednesday to the decision which outlawed Ohio's new industrial loan law.

The court's unanimous decision stripped from the newly created Development Financing Commission all authority to make industrial loans financed by multi-million dollar bond issues.

Development Director George Wilson told newsmen he and the governor set up a telephone conference with officials of firms for which loans already had been approved.

"Our immediate concern is to work with these companies in providing alternative methods of financing to the extent that some 2,392 jobs will be created in Ohio," Wilson said.

The governor did not elaborate, but he asserted: "We will have an answer by the first of next week."

One possibility mentioned was a constitutional amendment to overcome the Supreme Court decision, but Rhodes did not endorse the proposal.

Other proposals included: Full utilization of commercial lending institutions.

Encouraging more Ohio developer-investors to build and lease plants to prospective firms.

Spearheading a drive for more community improvement corporations.

Meanwhile, the American Greetings Corp. said Wednesday it is going ahead with plans (Continued on Page Two)

Engineers Said Saved From Indians

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Unconfirmed reports say Peruvian troops have rescued 37 engineers as savage Indians closed in on them after a week's siege in the Amazon jungle. Another engineer was believed killed in the siege.

The reports in Lima newspapers said the group of Peruvian government employees was saved Wednesday when 50 to 75 soldiers hacked their way through dense forests to a tiny knoll where the road surveying team was making a last stand.

An official said the Indians were believed to be of the Mayayana tribe, described as "wild, naked savages still living in the stone age."

Poisoned arrows are their main weapons, the official said, and they probably have some guns stolen in raids on civilized villages.

The engineers were attacked eight days ago, four weeks after they set out from Requena to map a road through the jungle to the Brazilian frontier 75 miles to the east. Requena is 550 air miles north of Lima.

The Indians' strength was variously estimated at from several dozen to several hundred.

The engineers had a mobile radio transmitter and tapped out an urgent morse code message received by a military post in Iquitos, 100 miles north of Requena.

Civil Rights Shows To Blossom

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Southern fight against segregation, predicted today that civil rights demonstrations will reach record proportions this year.

"I think we will see the hottest summer in terms of civil rights," King said in an interview. "I think we will see demonstrations on a level and size we've never seen before."

Outlining plans for 1964, King reiterated that Alabama has been chosen as the main target this year by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference he heads.

The Alabama campaign will begin in late April or early May, King said, and it might be centered on Montgomery or spread out over five major cities.

A team is working in Alabama to mobilize Negroes, King said.

"We are hoping to get at least 10,000 recruits for a non-violent army who will be willing to spend their vacation in jail if necessary," he said.

King declined to go into details of the Alabama drive.

He said SCLC is helping in Mississippi desegregation efforts and will try to send at least 1,500 students from Northern and Western colleges and universities to Mississippi this summer to join the drive.

If there is a serious filibuster in the U.S. Senate against the civil rights bill, "then we definitely plan action in Washington and supportive action all around the country," he said.

Another phase of his efforts, King said, will center this summer on the presidential election and political conventions.

"I plan to travel into Northern communities and try to initiate a very massive, intensified voter registration drive," he said. "We have studied marginal districts all over the United States—those districts where congressmen barely got elected and additional votes would make the difference."

"In many instances, these congressmen have been wishy-washy on civil rights and new voters could change that."

King said he will call a conference, probably in September, "to launch a nationwide selective buying program" on a national basis.

Trouble Faces LBJ Proposal

No Waste Pledged In $3.4 Billion Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today for $3.4 billion in foreign aid to help "build a world in which the weak can walk without fear."

In a special message to a Congress which has become increasingly resistant to foreign aid in recent years, Johnson depicted the program as a bulwark against both war and "the ambitions of Communist imperialism."

He promised no waste in the operation and asked for permanent authority for U.S. arms aid abroad.

On Capitol Hill, there were prompt predictions of trouble ahead for the President's proposals.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said there were "still possibilities for real economies." Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana commended the President for the reduced requests but said "as always, the program will have to plow a difficult road."

Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles foreign aid, said he hoped Congress would approve less than $3 billion.

House committee hearings on the measure may open next week, but Senate hearings are not expected to begin until after the Easter recess.

Johnson laid the groundwork for his request—$1 billion in arms aid and $2.4 billion for economic assistance—with this summation:

"The proposals contained in this message express our self-interest at the same time that they proclaim our national ideals."

"We will be laying up a harvest of woe for us and our children if we shrink from the task of grappling in the world community with poverty and ignorance."

"These are the grim recruiting sergeants of communism."

"They flourish wherever we falter. If we default on our obligations, communism will expand its ambitions."

"That is the stern equation which dominates our age, and from which there can be no escape in logic or in honor."

Johnson disclosed in the long-awaited message that he has decided against any major shake-up in the overseas assistance program. He had appointed a special committee to study reorganization possibilities.

Instead, Johnson concentrated on a number of streamlining activities which he said would boost efficiency of the program, help U.S. friends abroad get off the dole and at the same time "aid in frustrating the ambitions of Communist imperialism" for world domination.

Johnson noted the $3.4 billion for the fiscal year starting next July 1 is $1.5 billion below President John F. Kennedy's original foreign aid request a year ago. Congress chopped off about $1.5 billion after a stiff fight.

Even with Johnson's reduced figure, the overseas assistance program is expected to run into more trouble in Congress this year. Johnson appeared to anticipate critics in outlining what he termed "prudent and responsible programs."

Women Held For Threats

Texas Governor Target for Injury

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Two Nashville, Tenn., women were charged Wednesday with making a threatening telephone call to Texas Gov. John B. Connally on the day a Dallas jury decreed the death sentence for Jack Ruby for the slaying of Harvey Lee Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents identified the women as: Christine Burke, 34, and Norma June McGriff, 38.

They were arrested Wednesday at their Nashville homes and waived a hearing before U.S. Commissioner A. B. Neil Jr. Each was released under $2,500 bond. They entered no plea to the charge.

The FBI in Nashville said the women likely will be tried in the San Antonio, Tex., federal court.

J. Myers Cole, special agent in charge of the San Antonio FBI office said the complaint charges that the two women "on or about March 14 at Nashville did willfully and knowingly transmit in interstate commerce from Nashville to Austin a telephone call containing a threat to injure the person of Gov. John Connally, in violation of federal statutes."

Neither the FBI nor Connally's office would amplify the "threat to injure the person" charge.

Only one call was made but two women talked, the FBI said.

Connally said he knew about the call but would have no other comment.

The governor's office said the March 14 call was received by Texas highway patrolman Bill Nelson, regularly assigned to guard the mansion. Nelson talked with the women "for some time" and during the conversation managed to get the call traced to Nashville. Connally was not in Austin at the time the call was made, his office said.

DeGaulle Ends Visit

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle ends his visit to Mexico today after three days of trying to project a new image of France as a big brother of Latin America.

In a joint communique signed with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos Wednesday night, De Gaulle pledged France would work at the U.N. Trade Conference in Geneva next week for "new formulas" that would pay Latin America better prices for its raw materials and manufactured products.

The two presidents also pledged to work for development of exchanges between Latin America and the European Common Market, calling such exchanges "desirable for their mutual benefit."

Old Man Winter Hurls Another Big Wallop

Winter unleashed one final wallop today, peppering the nation's Plains and Midwestern states with rain and snow and bringing warnings of heavy snow and blizzard conditions for some areas.

With spring less than 24 hours away — it officially begins at 9:10 a.m. EST Friday—livestock warnings were issued for eastern Montana, northeastern Wyoming, North Dakota, western and central South Dakota and central Nebraska.

Ruby Fires Lawyer Belli After Attack on Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Convicted slayer Jack Ruby fired his head attorney, Melvin Belli, Wednesday night. And in a letter from his jail cell protesting Belli's bitter criticism of Dallas, Ruby said he had "tried to disengage" the lawyer as far back as Jan. 22.

A Dallas jury convicted Ruby Saturday of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, and sentenced him to death in the electric chair.

In angry reaction, Belli declared it a "kangaroo railroad" verdict by a jury that was "shoved down our throats."

He called Dallas "a festering sore" and said, "Now we see the shame of Dallas in all its glory."

The president of the American Bar Association called Bel-

li's remarks "intemperate and abusive."

In Mexico City, Belli declined comment, saying he had not heard directly from Ruby and that all he knew about it was what he had read.

Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, told the Dallas Morning News she sent the dismissal letter by airmail Wednesday night to Belli's San Francisco law office.

Ruby and his family "were dissatisfied with the defense presented by Belli and shocked at the tirade he delivered," Mrs. Grant said.

The letter said Ruby "tried to disengage" Belli Jan. 22, after a disagreement over defense tactics, but Belli "bitterly opposed and forced himself" on Ruby and "would not consent at that time to any local, adequate, competent counsel."

Copies of the letter also went to the other defense lawyers, Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., and Phil Burleson of Dallas, but it was not immediately known how their status was affected.

The family said it has a note Belli wrote Ruby, saying his defense would not cost anything. A brother, Hyman Ruby, of Chicago, said, however, that Belli "has put all of us deeply in debt."

Ruby realized $24,000 from a newspaper serial of his life, written by a California author, which the family said, helped finance the trial.

The letter said, "We do not know what we will do for further counsel."

School Fund Said Assured

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, has told his fellow House members by letter that "it is the full intention of the legislature that the quarterly payments to the school foundation shall continue to be made promptly."

"There is no reason now to assume that the school foundation and emergency sums already appropriated for 1964 will not be adequate to cover the three remaining quarterly payments of 1964," he said in the letter mailed Wednesday.

The State Controlling Board recently warned public school officials to live with their two-year appropriations of state subsidies. The State School Board Association said the Controlling Board action might mean an $18 million drop in state school foundation payments for the two-year period.

Annie Glenn Set For More Visits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Annie Glenn, wife of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., was to be in Springfield, Dayton and Troy today to boost the former astronaut's campaign for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination.

Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Scott Carpenter, wife of another astronaut, began a tour Monday on behalf of Glenn's candidacy. Since then, they've attended teas, luncheons and receptions in 10 communities.

Glenn is recuperating in an Air Force hospital in Texas from a head injury suffered in a fall. He is expected to begin campaigning April 1.

U.S. Proposes Plane Burning

Soviet Is Asked To Sack Bombers

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed to the Soviet Union today that they each destroy 480 planes from their strategic bomber fleets over a two-year period.

The proposal for destruction of American B47 and Soviet TU16 Badger bombers was made at a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference by U.S. negotiator Adrian S. Fisher.

It differed substantially from the demand for total destruction of all strategic bombers of both nations made to the conference on Jan. 29 by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin.

Fisher suggested that the two big powers should each destroy 20 planes a month over a two-year period. In addition, he said the United States is prepared to destroy an additional agreed number of planes in its mothball reserve.

Fisher stressed that the destruction of planes would have to be carried out under strict observation by the other nation.

"The B47 and the TU16 bombers are logical armaments with which to start the process of physical destruction of arms," Fisher said. "The United States and the Soviet Union possess roughly comparable numbers of these aircraft and the two types of aircraft have been assigned generally similar strategic roles."

Fisher met in advance an expected Soviet objection that both the B47 and the Badger are being phased out of battle-ready forces as obsolete.

"The phasing out of aircraft does not mean destruction," he said. "Bombers in storage can be flying again in short order."

Fisher warned that the B47 and the Badger also could become a threat to peace if they fell into the hands of nonnuclear powers, which have no plane of similar performance.

MANY KIND and interesting comments have been directed this way since last Friday's first Business - Industry - Education Day in Circleville and Pickaway County.

One of perhaps several complimentary letters addressed to local businessmen was received by Orley Bosworth at Beaver Studio from a teacher that visited his establishment on B-I-E Day. . . The teacher's remarks noted that he now has a greater appreciation for and better understanding of the life of our businessmen and the problems they encounter.

The teacher, in turn, expressed hope that he and members of his profession could present their picture in the same beneficial manner when businessmen visit city and county schools next year.

Bach, 369 Northridge Road, who is serving as ticket chairman for the "High Fever Follies" said yesterday that a new arrival at their home (a pet hamster) escaped from her children and took sanctuary in the heat ducts of their furnace.

Mrs. Jeanne D. Bach, 369 E. Franklin St., serving as publicity chairman for the hospital benefit show, just finished a four-day search for a pet hamster at her home. . . Her children localized the pet (under the refrigerator) and finally persuaded it back into captivity.

On the other hand, Jo Bach and her family are still trying (and desperately hoping) to find their "lost soul" alive since there has been no indications that the pet may be dead.

Ruby Fires Lawyer Belli After Attack on Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Convicted slayer Jack Ruby fired his head attorney, Melvin Belli, Wednesday night. And in a letter from his jail cell protesting Belli's bitter criticism of Dallas, Ruby said he had "tried to disengage" the lawyer as far back as Jan. 22.

A Dallas jury convicted Ruby Saturday of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, and sentenced him to death in the electric chair.

In angry reaction, Belli declared it a "kangaroo railroad" verdict by a jury that was "shoved down our throats."

He called Dallas "a festering sore" and said, "Now we see the shame of Dallas in all its glory."

The president of the American Bar Association called Bel-

li's remarks "intemperate and abusive."

In Mexico City, Belli declined comment, saying he had not heard directly from Ruby and that all he knew about it was what he had read.

Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, told the Dallas Morning News she sent the dismissal letter by airmail Wednesday night to Belli's San Francisco law office.

Ruby and his family "were dissatisfied with the defense presented by Belli and shocked at the tirade he delivered," Mrs. Grant said.

The letter said Ruby "tried to disengage" Belli Jan. 22, after a disagreement over defense tactics, but Belli "bitterly opposed and forced himself" on Ruby and "would not consent at that time to any local, adequate, competent counsel."

Copies of the letter also went to the other defense lawyers, Joe Tonnahill of Jasper, Tex., and Phil Burleson of Dallas, but it was not immediately known how their status was affected.

The family said it has a note Belli wrote Ruby, saying his defense would not cost anything. A brother, Hyman Ruby, of Chicago, said, however, that Belli "has put all of us deeply in debt."

Ruby realized $24,000 from a newspaper serial of his life, written by a California author, which the family said, helped finance the trial.

The letter said, "We do not know what we will do for further counsel."

The governor's office said the March 14 call was received by Texas highway patrolman Bill Nelson, regularly assigned to guard the mansion. Nelson talked with the women "for some time" and during the conversation managed to get the call traced to Nashville. Connally was not in Austin at the time the call was made, his office said.

DeGaulle Ends Visit

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle ends his visit to Mexico today after three days of trying to project a new image of France as a big brother of Latin America.

In a joint communique signed with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos Wednesday night, De Gaulle pledged France would work at the U.N. Trade Conference in Geneva next week for "new formulas" that would pay Latin America better prices for its raw materials and manufactured products.

The two presidents also pledged to work for development of exchanges between Latin America and the European Common Market, calling such exchanges "desirable for their mutual benefit."

Old Man Winter Hurls Another Big Wallop

Winter unleashed one final wallop today, peppering the nation's Plains and Midwestern states with rain and snow and bringing warnings of heavy snow and blizzard conditions for some areas.

With spring less than 24 hours away — it officially begins at 9:10 a.m. EST Friday — livestock warnings were issued for eastern Montana, northeastern Wyoming, North Dakota, western and central South Dakota and central Nebraska.

Women Held For Threats

Texas Governor Target for Injury

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two Nashville, Tenn., women were charged Wednesday with making a threatening telephone call to Texas Gov. John B. Connally on the day a Dallas jury decreed the death sentence for Jack Ruby for the slaying of Harvey Lee Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents identified the women as: Christine Burke, 34, and Norma June McGriff, 38.

They were arrested Wednesday at their Nashville homes and waived a hearing before U.S. Commissioner A. B. Neil Jr. Each was released under $2,500 bond. They entered no plea to the charge.

The FBI in Nashville said the women likely will be tried in the San Antonio, Tex., federal court. J. Myers Cole, special agent in charge of the San Antonio FBI office said the complaint charges that the two women "on or about March 14 at Nashville did willfully and knowingly transmit in interstate commerce from Nashville to Austin a telephone call containing a threat to injure the person of Gov. John Connally, in violation of federal statutes."

Neither the FBI nor Connally's office would admit the "threat to injure the person" charge.

Only one call was made but two women talked, the FBI said.

Connally said he knew about the call but would have no other comment.

The governor's office said the March 14 call was received by Texas highway patrolman Bill Nelson, regularly assigned to guard the mansion. Nelson talked with the women "for some time" and during the conversation managed to get the call traced to Nashville. Connally was not in Austin at the time the call was made, his office said.

School Fund Said Assured

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, has told his fellow House members by letter that "it is the full intention of the legislature that the quarterly payments to the school foundation shall continue to be made promptly."

"There is no reason now to assume that the school foundation and emergency sums already appropriated for 1964 will not be adequate to cover the three remaining quarterly payments of 1964," he said in the letter mailed Wednesday.

The State Controlling Board recently warned public school officials to live with their two-year appropriations of state subsidies. The State School Board Association said the Controlling Board action might mean an $18 million drop in state school foundation payments for the two-year period.

Annie Glenn Set For More Visits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Annie Glenn, wife of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., was to be in Springfield, Dayton and Troy today to boost the former astronaut's campaign for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination.

U.S. Presses Soviet To Free Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin today as the United States stepped up its diplomatic pressure for return of the three U.S. fliers downed in East Germany.

Dobrynin declined comment after the 15-minute session except to say he had no further information about the plane incident and that he had not received a note from Rusk.

Officials indicated that Rusk was pressing for Soviet compliance with U.S. demands for release of the three U.S. Air Force officers. Their RB66 reconnaissance plane was shot down over East Germany March 10. The three fliers parachuted from the plane.

The Russians have allowed an American doctor to visit one of the three men, who was injured, but they have refused so far to release the three.

No Gasoline Tank, But Auto Runs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The rented sedan driven by Guy V. Whitner Jr. of Newberry, S.C., stalled in the driveway of a Miami Beach hotel.

Hotel doorman William Benway called a service station to deliver some gasoline then opened the small door that hides the gas cap — and stared in disbelief.

No gas tank. Police picked up the tank 18 blocks and nine traffic lights away.

"I can't understand how the car ran that far without a tank," said Benway.

She said the Federation Aeronaoutique Internationale has sanctioned the flight for record purposes.

Another woman, Mrs. Joan Merriam Smith, a California Navy wife, took off from the West Coast Tuesday on a proposed east-west flight around the globe. Neither pilot claims it is a race.

Mrs. Smith, at 27 eleven years younger than Mrs. Mock, took off this morning from New Orleans for Miami. She is following the same route plotted in 1937 by Amelia Earhart, who tired the 27,000-mile flight but vanished in the Pacific Ocean just short of her finish goal.

Her chief booster is her husband, Lt. Marvin (Jack) Smith, commanding officer of the U.S. 7th Fleet minesweeper Endurance.

Speaking to newsmen in Yokosuka, Naval port in Southern Japan, Lt. Smith declared that "I have every confidence in her ability as a pilot. The airplane has all the necessary equipment."

Joan is no novice at flying small planes over long distances. She has twice entered the Powder Puff Derby, a coast-to-coast speed test for women pilots.

The California aviatrix hopes to see her husband when she lands at the island of Guam in the Pacific.

She took off Tuesday from Oakland, Calif., in her twin-engine turbo - charged Piper Apache called the City of Long Beach. She hopes to finish her round the world journey April 14.

The Labor Department expressed cautious hope that the two sides can work out a new basis for negotiating their long dispute over wages and working condition.

Chief industry negotiator J. E. Wolfe said Wednesday night that a nationwide strike was imminent. This was the second time he had done so this week, and a union spokesman promptly denied it.

The strike talk appears to be part of the maneuvering between five operating unions and

Honored Chaplain Dies at 58

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, 58, the only chaplain to win the Medal of Honor and officer by his commanding officer as "the bravest man I ever knew" died Wednesday night in St. Vincent Hospital.

Father O'Callahan, chaplain aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin when she was attacked off Kobe, Japan, in World War II, was presented the Medal of Honor by President Truman in 1946.

Father O'Callahan was a former professor at Holy Cross College. Recently, he had been in residence at the school.

His almost unbelievable exploit which won him the nation's highest and rarest decoration for courage took place March 19, 1945. During a relentless kamikaze attack, some 1,000 of the Franklin's complement of over 3,000 were killed. It was then-Capt. Leslie E. Gehres of the Franklin who lauded the priest as "the bravest man I ever knew."

Among the wounded was Father O'Callahan but he refused aid while he struggled to help other wounded and dying. The hospital said death was due to hardening of the arteries.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were mainly fractional, some going to a point or so.

The market was at the peak of nine straight new highs posted by the Dow Jones industrial averages. Some commentators predicted a mild correction.

Meanwhile, the business news continued encouraging. Cash dividends rose in February. Retail sales were booming and greater gains were forecast because of the tax cut. Shipments of copper were reported the best in nearly two years.

The General Motors plan for $2 billion in spending for new plant and equipment also was bullish.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 303.3 with industrials up .7, rails unchanged and utilities up .2.

She said the Federation Aeronautique Internationale has sanctioned the flight for record purposes.

Another woman, Mrs. Joan Merriam Smith, a California Navy wife, took off from the West Coast Tuesday on a proposed east-west flight around the globe. Neither pilot claims it is a race.

Mrs. Smith, at 27 eleven years younger than Mrs. Mock, took off this morning from New Orleans for Miami. She is following the same route plotted in 1937 by Amelia Earhart, who tired the 27,000-mile flight but vanished in the Pacific Ocean just short of her finish goal.

Her chief booster is her husband, Lt. Marvin (Jack) Smith, commanding officer of the U.S. 7th Fleet minesweeper Endeavour.

Speaking to newsmen in Yokosuka, naval port in Southern Japan, Lt. Smith declared that "I have every confidence in her ability as a pilot. The airplane has all the necessary equipment."

Joan is no novice at flying small planes over long distances. She has twice entered the Powder Puff Derby, a coast-to-coast speed test for women pilots.

The California aviatrix hopes to see her husband when she lands at the island of Guam in the Pacific.

She took off Tuesday from Oakland, Calif., in her twin-engine turbo - charged Piper Apache called the City of Long Beach. She hopes to finish her round the world journey April 14.

The strike talk appears to be part of the maneuvering between five operating unions and

Honored Chaplain Dies at 58

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, 58, the only chaplain to win the Medal of Honor and described by his commanding officer as "the bravest man I ever knew" died Wednesday night in St. Vincent Hospital.

Father O'Callahan, chaplain aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin when she was attacked off Kobe, Japan, in World War II, was presented the Medal of Honor by President Truman in 1946.

Father O'Callahan was a former professor at Holy Cross College. Recently, he had been in residence at the school.

His almost unbelievable exploit which won him the nation's highest and rarest decoration for courage took place March 19, 1945. During a relentless kamikaze attack, some 1,000 of the Franklin's complement of over 3,000 were killed. It was then Capt. Leslie E. Gehres of the Franklin who lauded the priest as "the bravest man I ever knew."

Among the wounded was Father O'Callahan but he refused aid while he struggled to help other wounded and dying. The hospital said death was due to hardening of the arteries.

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were mainly fractional, some going to a point or so.

The market was at the peak of nine straight new highs posted by the Dow Jones industrial averages. Some commentators predicted a mild correction.

Meanwhile, the business news continued encouraging. Cash dividends rose in February. Retail sales were booming and greater gains were forecast because of the tax cut. Shipments of copper were reported the best in nearly two years.

The General Motors plan for $2 billion in spending for new plant and equipment also was bullish.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 303.3 with industrials up .7, rails unchanged and utilities up .2.

Military Plane Crashes Cost U.S. $1.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $1.8 billion in U.S. military planes have been lost or badly damaged in crashes over the past three years, it was learned today.

Pilot error and "material failure" were listed as the chief causes in more than 2,000 major military aircraft accidents in 1961-1963.

This data was contained in an analysis provided by the Defense Department. The Associated Press asked the report in connection with a running dispute over the relative reliability of missiles and manned aircraft.

Critics of U.S. missile systems have suggested, among other things, that there is much more assurance about the reliability of manned aircraft because of many years of experience and thousands of flights.

The Pentagon report said the Air Force suffered some 1,100 major accidents over the past three years causing damage totaling $1.1 billion. This averages out to about $1 million per accident.

During that same period more than 900 Navy and Marine Corps planes sustained major damage or were destroyed. The dollar estimate: something over $700 million.

The Army, which uses mainly helicopters and other relatively inexpensive aircraft, reported more than 200 major accidents with $27 million in damages.

In a rundown of causes, the Navy said human error was responsible for 60 per cent of all accidents to Navy and Marine Corps aircraft. Pilot error was blamed for 48 per cent and 12 per cent by "other persons."

Material failure accounted for 28 per cent, weather base facilities and miscellaneous causes the rest.

The Air Force said pilot error caused 31 per cent of its accidents, material failure 39 per cent, weather 1 per cent, maintenance 8 per cent, supervision 5 per cent and the remainder undetermined and miscellaneous.

Army statistics, which were not broken down, were reported to show crew error as a main cause of accidents, material failure as the second cause and maintenance and weather following in that order.

"All the services have vigorous accident prevention or safety programs," the Pentagon said. It claimed that Air Force and Navy accident rates have been on a declining curve since the 1920s.

Contact Lens Warning Out

Tears Said Sign Of Eye Trouble

BOSTON (AP)—How are your contact lenses feeling these days?

If they don't make you cry, you've nothing to cry about. If they do, better see your ophthalmologist.

That's the advice of Dr. William Stone Jr., a pioneer in the development of plastic contact lenses who warns that too many unqualified persons are prescribing and fitting lenses.

Stone's comments came Tuesday night after a spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration, quoting Stone, said 14 persons have been blinded or become partly blind because they wear contact lenses.

Stone said the blindness is caused by an element in the plastic used to make the lenses. In some persons tears activate the chemical in the plastic which can cause blindness.

He said a tendency toward blindness should be indicated in the first few hours a new patient wears the lenses.

Stone said many persons suffering from eye infections are the victims of bad advice. "Some persons are told to wear their lenses night and day," he said. "A man in Belgium wore his contacts for five days in succession, then went blind."

Stone, chairman of the contact lens committee of the American Medical Foundation for Eye Care, says lenses should be removed every four or five hours.

Split Foreign Aid Shelved

Arms, Economic Items Combined

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's plans to give the controversial foreign aid bill a new look were shelved after a quiet little White House dinner about six weeks ago, a high source reports.

The main decision involved whether to split the economic aid program from the military aid program and present them to Congress separately. The idea was to change the image of the program and make it more palatable to congressmen and voters.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara led off the after-dinner discussion by stating the case for making military aid separate, a source who was present said.

He was followed by others who favored this approach, among them Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The case for splitting economic and military aid proceeded smoothly as though the decision were "on the rails," the source said, until the President called on Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"Mr. President, if you want to lose the foreign aid bill on the floor of the House, then fragment it," Morgan told Johnson.

Morgan then repeated his long-held views that the military assistance portion of the foreign aid bill is the only thing that gets it through Congress each year, and that to separate the two sections would be an open invitation to the program's foes to decimate the economic aid, or "foreign aid giveaway," as they call it.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pattern of Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency in 1964 is now pretty clear. The pattern includes preparation for the supreme test of his life: election to the presidency on his own.

This is it: At home be cautious; seek the broadest public appeal and approval; don't give the critics ammunition; be plain, humble, and homey. Abroad: Be nice, pleasant, but stiff.

He showed what he was aiming at in a recent interview when he said he wants to be a "people's president." Whether in the long run all this is good leadership or just accommodation to public mood remains to be seen.

As of now Johnson, who succeeded to the presidency without winning it, seems certain of the Democratic nomination. Would-be Republican presidential candidates trail him in the polls.

Thanks to his tactics, their criticism of him has been weak. Mostly, they've been thrashing around among themselves. It may be different next summer when Republicans pick their candidate and the campaign begins.

President Kennedy was an extremely cautious executive, too, with some early exceptions like backing the disastrous invasion of Cuba and his fight with the steelmakers.

It has been reported that Kennedy was cautious because, due to his hair-thin victory in 1960, he felt he lacked a full mandate from the people. That wasn't much excuse for failing to push some of his programs harder.

His election was a full mandate, no matter how slim his victory. If this was truly Kennedy's feeling, Johnson by the same reasoning could claim the right to even more caution. He wasn't even elected.

Whether or not this is Johnson's feeling, his natural caution, or his experienced political policy, he has sought public approval step by step from the beginning. For instance: His big emphasis on economy.

It was popular and at the same time undercut the Republicans' old criticism that Democrats were big spenders although President Eisenhower went in the red more than once.

Then Johnson followed his preaching by offering a $98.8-billion budget, less than Kennedy's last year, and even got publicity about his economy-mindedness by turning out the White House lights.

Now he's following up by asking far less than Kennedy for foreign aid, a program always under criticism. Last year Kennedy asked $4.9 billion. Johnson is asking only $3.4 billion.

Last year Congress, after whittling, permitted exactly $3.4 billion, including $400 million in carryover money. So Johnson is not asking a dime more. Republicans and the economy-minded can't find much to criticize

Top Lawyer Group Raps Ruby's Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association declared here that Jack Ruby's trial lawyer, Melvin Belli, showed flagrant disregard for the code of professional ethics and his oath as an attorney.

Walter C. Craig of Phoenix, Ariz., the bar association head, said Belli's "unrestrained comments" made after Ruby was found guilty and his punishment fixed as death were "a discredit to him and to his profession."

Craig, in a speech prepared for a luncheon meeting of the San Francisco Bar Association, said a number of unethical conduct complaints have been received at ABA headquarters from member lawyers concerning Belli's public statements.

He said these complaints are being referred for investigation to the association's committee on professional grievances.

Belli blazed with wrath when the verdict was returned March 14, declaring, "Now we see the shame of Dallas in all its glory." He called the verdict a "kangaroo railroad" by a jury that was "shoved down our throats."

Court-Martial Clears Medic

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Capt. Eugene Goldman, an Army doctor accused by three women patients of rape and indecent assault, has been declared innocent on all counts by a general court-martial.

Goldman, 30, father of two, smiled and his eyes filled with tears when his acquittal was declared by Col. David R. Crocker, president of the nine-officer board.

The women had filed complaints charging that Goldman raped them in his examining room at Walston Army Hospital after giving them drugs that made them sleepy. Goldman, during the four hours he was on the stand, emphatically denied the allegations.

Military Plane Crashes Cost U.S. $1.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $1.8 billion in U.S. military planes have been lost or badly damaged in crashes over the past three years, it was learned today.

Pilot error and "material failure" were listed as the chief causes in more than 2,000 major military aircraft accidents in 1961-1963.

This data was contained in an analysis provided by the Defense Department. The Associated Press asked the report in connection with a running dispute over the relative reliability of missiles and manned aircraft.

Critics of U.S. missile systems have suggested, among other things, that there is much more assurance about the reliability of manned aircraft because of many years of experience and thousands of flights.

The Pentagon report said the Air Force suffered some 1,100 major accidents over the past three years causing damage totaling $1.1 billion. This averages out to about $1 million per accident.

During that same period more than 900 Navy and Marine Corps planes sustained major damage or were destroyed. The dollar estimate: something over $700 million.

The Army, which uses mainly helicopters and other relatively inexpensive aircraft, reported more than 200 major accidents with $27 million in damages.

In a rundown of causes, the Navy said human error was responsible for 60 per cent of all accidents to Navy and Marine Corps aircraft. Pilot error was blamed for 48 per cent and 12 per cent by "other persons."

Material failure accounted for 28 per cent, weather base facilities and miscellaneous causes the rest.

The Air Force said pilot error caused 31 per cent of its accidents, material failure 39 per cent, weather 1 per cent, maintenance 8 per cent, supervision 5 per cent and the remainder undetermined and miscellaneous.

Army statistics, which were not broken down, were reported to show crew error as a main cause of accidents, material failure as the second cause and maintenance and weather following in that order.

"All the services have vigorous accident prevention or safety programs," the Pentagon said. It claimed that Air Force and Navy accident rates have been on a declining curve since the 1920s.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Except for some occasional snow flurries in the extreme corner of Northeast Ohio, skies were clear over the entire state early today.

Temperatures again were cold although higher than those of Wednesday morning. Some readings at 6 a.m. today were Mansfield 17, Cleveland 24, Columbus 21 and Cincinnati 26.

A large area of precipitation was approaching Ohio from the west early today. The rain area reached as far as Central Missouri and Arkansas by 6 a.m. forecast to spread over Ohio today with precipitation likely by tonight.

Since temperatures tonight will be just above freezing, rain mixed with snow is likely, especially in Northern and Central Ohio.

Precipitation will continue Friday but as rain.

Split Foreign Aid Shelved

Arms, Economic Items Combined

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's plans to give the controversial foreign aid bill a new look were shelved after a quiet little White House dinner about six weeks ago, a high source reports.

The main decision involved whether to split the economic aid program from the military aid program and present them to Congress separately. The idea was to change the image of the program and make it more palatable to congressmen and voters.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara led off the after-dinner discussion by stating the case for making military aid separate, a source who was present said.

He was followed by others who favored this approach, among them Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The case for splitting economic and military aid proceeded smoothly as though the decisions were "on the rails," the source said, until the President called on Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"Mr. President, if you want to lose the foreign aid bill on the floor of the House, then fragment it," Morgan told Johnson.

Morgan then repeated his long-held views that the military assistance portion of the foreign aid bill is the only thing that gets it through Congress each year, and that to separate the two sections would be an open invitation to the program's foes to decimate the economic aid, or "foreign aid giveaway," as they call it.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pattern of Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency in 1964 is now pretty clear. The pattern includes preparation for the supreme test of his life: election to the presidency on his own.

This is it: At home be cautious; seek the broadest public appeal and approval; don't give the critics ammunition; be plain, humble, and homey. Abroad: Be nice, pleasant, but stiff.

He showed what he was aiming at in a recent interview when he said he wants to be a "people's president." Whether in the long run all this is good leadership or just accommodation to public mood remains to be seen.

As of now Johnson, who succeeded to the presidency without winning it, seems certain of the Democratic nomination. Would-be Republican presidential candidates trail him in the polls.

Thanks to his tactics, their criticism of him has been weak. Mostly, they've been thrashing around among themselves. It may be different next summer when Republicans pick their candidate and the campaign begins.

President Kennedy was an extremely cautious executive, too, with some early exceptions like backing the disastrous invasion of Cuba and his fight with the steelmakers.

It has been reported that Kennedy was cautious because, due to his hair-thin victory in 1960, he felt he lacked a full mandate from the people. That wasn't much excuse for failing to push some of his programs harder.

His election was a full mandate, no matter how slim his victory. If this was truly Kennedy's feeling, Johnson by the same reasoning could claim the right to even more caution. He wasn't even elected.

Whether or not this is Johnson's feeling, his natural caution, or his experienced political policy, he has sought public approval step by step from the beginning. For instance: His big emphasis on economy.

It was popular and at the same time undercut the Republicans' old criticism that Democrats were big spenders although President Eisenhower went in the red more than once.

Then Johnson followed his preachment by offering a $98.8-billion budget, less than Kennedy's last year, and even got publicity about his economy-mindedness by turning out the White House lights.

Now he's following up by asking far less than Kennedy for foreign aid, a program always under criticism. Last year Kennedy asked $4.9 billion. Johnson is asking only $3.4 billion.

Last year Congress, after whittling, permitted exactly $3.4 billion, including $400 million in carryover money. So Johnson is not asking a dime more. Republicans and the economy-minded can't find much to criticize there unless they want to abolish foreign aid.

Johnson has cultivated both business and labor, praised free enterprise, offered an antipolice program, backed civil rights, and is all for medical care for the aged.

That covers a lot of the population, most of them voters. Southern whites may get mad about civil rights but there may not be much heat on the rest, particularly since Congress may not act on them this year.

Johnson has been proper but stiff with Premier Khrushchev, hardly an unpopular performance in this country. Even in the dispute with little Panama, Johnson has managed to deprive Republicans of much to criticize.

They warn against making concessions under pressure. Johnson wasn't under any crisis pressure about Panama but he leaned over backward to avoid any appearance of conceding anything.

His chances for big mistakes are far greater in foreign affairs than domestic ones. His experience was all domestic, not foreign. Understanding American politics is not the same as sensitivity to other peoples.

For instance: While Johnson may have seemed pleasantly firm and unbending to Americans on Panama, he angered Latin Americans by the way he handled it.

Top Lawyer Group Raps Ruby's Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association declared here that Jack Ruby's trial lawyer, Melvin Belli, showed flagrant disregard for the code of professional ethics and his oath as an attorney.

Walter C. Craig of Phoenix, Ariz., the bar association head, said Belli's "unrestrained comments" made after Ruby was found guilty and his punishment fixed as death were "a discredit to him and to his profession."

Craig, in a speech prepared for a luncheon meeting of the San Francisco Bar Association, said a number of unethical conduct complaints have been received at ABA headquarters from member lawyers concerning Belli's public statements.

He said these complaints are being referred for investigation to the association's committee on professional grievances.

Belli blazed with wrath when the verdict was returned March 14, declaring, "Now we see the shame of Dallas in all its glory." He called the verdict a "kangaroo railroad" by a jury that was "shoved down our throats."

Court-Martial Clears Medic

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Capt. Eugene Goldman, an Army doctor accused by three women patients of rape and indecent assault, has been declared innocent on all counts by a general court-martial.

Goldman, 30, father of two, smiled and his eyes filled with tears when his acquittal was declared by Col. David R. Crocker, president of the nine-officer board.

The women had filed complaints charging that Goldman raped them in his examining room at Walston Army Hospital after giving them drugs that made them sleepy. Goldman, during the four hours he was on the stand, emphatically denied the allegations.

Contact Lens Warning Out

Tears Said Sign
Of Eye Trouble

BOSTON (AP)—How are your contact lenses feeling these days?

If they don't make you cry, you've nothing to cry about. If they do, better see your ophthalmologist.

That's the advice of Dr. William Stone Jr., a pioneer in the development of plastic contact lenses who warns that too many unqualified persons are prescribing and fitting lenses.

Stone's comments came Tuesday night after a spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration, quoting Stone, said 14 persons have been blinded or become partly blind because they wear contact lenses.

Stone said the blindness is caused by an element in the plastic used to make the lenses. In some persons tears activate the chemical in the plastic which can cause blindness.

He said a tendency toward blindness should be indicated in the first few hours a new patient wears the lenses.

Stone said many persons suffering from eye infections are the victims of bad advice. "Some persons are told to wear their lenses night and day," he said. "A man in Belgium wore his contacts for five days in succession, then went blind."

Stone, chairman of the contact lens committee of the American Medical Foundation for Eye Care, says lenses should be removed every four or five hours.

Word Mix-Up

The Russian affinity for folk tales lost the Security Council of the UN 45 minutes of working time the other day. When Britain insisted on speaking first on Cyprus, the Soviet delegate was reminded of a story, in which he seemed to be comparing the British representative to an ox outwitted by a mouse.

The interpreter in English made it come out "ass," and his counterpart rendered it into French as "wolf." This was too much for the Russian. He hadn't intended to call the gentleman from Britain either an ass or a wolf, apparently, and everything ground to a halt while the mixup was straightened out.

There is no record of how the Briton felt about being likened to an ox—particularly one gored with folk tales.

Turn to Pipe-Smoking Detailed

By FRANK CAREY
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP) — I've switched from cigarettes to pipe smoking. If the national production of matches and lighter fluid keeps steady, I think I might make it stick.

Keeping the pipe burning requires so much time and concentration I've scarcely given a thought to cigarettes.

Besides, a variety of compensations have come to light. For example:

There's a strong camaraderie among pipe smokers. They freely swap tobacco and pipe cleaners—and they welcome a novice as though he were a lodge brother. Generous with advice to neophytes, they even offer tips on pipe smoking by wearers of false teeth, which I have escaped so far.

I've regained a measure of youth in the eyes of my daughters, who say: "Dad, you look positively collegiate."

I had been a cigarette smoker for about 30 of my 54 years when the report of the surgeon general's committee finally prompted me to try to quit.

I had been reporting scientists' treatises on the health hazards of cigarette smoking for years without giving up cigarettes.

In fact, some of my heaviest smoking has been done while writing such stories.

When the words wouldn't come the way I wanted them to, it was comforting to light a cigarette and inhale deeply.

Maybe, too, there was an aspect of having something to do with temporarily idle hands.

Maybe chewing on a pencil would have had the same effect.

At any rate, I've found a pipe to be such a pacifier. I've picked up some tips about pipes and the art and science of pipe smoking.

Here's a rundown:

Keep your new pipe clean, but you'll never really enjoy it until you build a layer of carbon inside the bowl.

You'd do well to line up a stable of pipes—one for every day in the week — to assure keeping all of them cool smoking.

Don't rush your smoking; and don't chain smoke. If you do, you'll wind up with a tongue that feels like red ants had been at it.

Never inhale — you'll blow your hat off.

You can never hope to get over that ceaseless match-scratching; it's just a cross a pipe smoker has to bear. However, with practice, you'll develop a "smoking rhythm" which will help you keep the fire lit.

However, your pipe has other advantages beyond smoking pleasure. In subfreezing weather, it provides a bit of heat for the nose; and, cradled in the hand, it can prevent frostbite.

If you want to cheat — and still masquerade as a self-disciplined soul — a cigarette crumpled up and shoved into the new pipe's bowl tastes just like a cigarette.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The last day of winter finds business with less to complain about than usual. The three months have dealt more kindly than in some previous years with most businesses. And the prospects are better than average, too.

True, the weather has been more ornery this winter in many sections. Business will be only too glad to see its official end today.

But in general, the economy has risen above this and put on more muscle. Manufacturing output has gained. Retail sales are nicely above a year ago.

Often in February commodity prices ease. But last month and this have seen many rise, particularly for materials used in industry. And price increases in some consumer commodities, if painful to the housewife, at least are giving producer nations, for the first time in several years, more money with which to buy the goods that American producers can turn out. They might even need less foreign aid, too.

Winter's winds haven't chilled the confidence of the American consumer in his assessment of good times ahead. Pollsters say their buying intentions are high and their expectation of prosperous times near peak levels.

The final days of winter have seen the federal income tax cut blossom in larger take - home pay. This helped boost confidence in better days ahead.

What happens when many taxpayers find they have to make larger settlement payments to the Internal Revenue Service because the new withholding rates didn't take out enough is something else again.

The winter also put a number of foreign problems in the deep chill, however temporarily. Sparring for a new round of tariff negotiations, especially with an increasingly protection-minded Europe, is just getting under way.

The new competition may startle some Americans who may have become complacent because U.S. exports have managed to stay nicely ahead of imports, and because an international banking pool has kept the price of gold stable and its flow to other nations at a minimum.

But the last days of winter saw the Soviets resuming their sale of gold in European money market, for the first time this year. This supply helps the West stabilize its own gold reserves. The Soviet Union is believed to be selling to get the money it needs to meet Canadian wheat shipments as soon as winter's grip on the St. Lawrence River is relaxed.

The cold and blustery months also did less than usual damage to construction plans. Total construction contract awards in January were 20 per cent higher than a year ago. Housing starts were at a high level that month. They slipped slightly in February but were still 19 per cent above a year ago.

Business capital spending plans perked up smartly in the waning weeks of winter. This is one of the things that makes the steel industry expect its current high level of activity will continue at least until summer.

Business capital spending plans perked up smartly in the waning weeks of winter. This is one of the things that makes the steel industry expect its current high level of activity will continue at least until summer.

THE FIRST TIME Ethel Merman was heard on radio was in the early 30's, when she was a guest on the Eddie

Cantor show. Eddie pointed to the microphone and said,

"Radio is wonderful. Think of it. Through this little device you will be heard in millions of homes

throughout the nation."

"What's the matter with those bums," jeered

Ethel. "Too lazy to open a window?"

CAMPUS HUMOR.

Lady Patient: I never tell anybody my age, but just for your information, I'm twenty-seven.

Doctor: What detained you?

2. Hunter: Are you sure we're not lost? They told me you're the best guide in Maine.

Guide: I am, but I think now we're in Canada.

3. New Bride: What's worrying you, Joe? Remember your worries now are OUR worries.

Bridegroom: Wonderful, darling. We just had a letter from Syracuse from a girl who's suing us for breach of promise.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

"It just can't happen to us. Children from families like ours could never become dope addicts!"

Such parental disbelief is understandable. It seems impossible that young, vigorous, educated teenage boys and girls, with a lifetime of happiness and fulfillment awaiting them, could be tempted to try narcotics.

But they do. And they come from every kind of home in every level of society. A young person may fall prey to addiction regardless of social, cultural or economic background.

Physicians all over America have had the painful experience of notifying parents that their child is "on drugs." These same physicians have sadly witnessed the progressive deterioration of the total family unit when a child is "hooked" by the clutching, compelling claws of drug addiction.

There is no single answer to the immense problem of controlling and curing addiction. If there is one possible solution, it is prevention.

Know your child. Take an active interest in his habits, his friends, his schools, his jobs, his whereabouts. Give him your steadfast love and devotion, and give him the problems and anxieties your sympathetic understanding.

child thus imbued with a sense of security and stability will rarely be misled into losing himself in the abysmal, distorted and anguished world of addiction.

Marijuana is the first of the stepping-stones from which the deluded, thrill-seeking teenager plunges into the dope-habit with terrifying rapidity. Cocaine with almost inevitable destruction of the human being.

There are some families, so shamed by the knowledge that their child is a dope addict, they actually perpetuate the habit rather than expose it for help. These parents are so fearful of public disgrace that they will waste every dollar of their savings to purchase the dope for their addicted child.

The results of a five-year study on drug addiction have just been released by the National Institute of Mental Health. Its findings offer some promise of relief from the despair that envelops the addict and his family.

The conclusions reached indicate that there is hope for the young addict to be reinstated

as a healthy, productive citizen, through the concentrated and combined efforts of all medical and social agencies.

The National Institute of Mental Health established the following rules which must imperatively be followed if this hope is to be attained:

1. Addiction must be recognized as a chronic illness, requiring long and uninterrupted treatment.

2. The immediate social and psychological needs of the addict require that he be given a job with responsibility to restore his personal dignity and self-respect.

3. The understanding support and co-operation of the addict's family are vital to the program of rehabilitation.

4. Since addicts face one crisis after another, the devoted professional assistance of social workers and physicians must be readily available.

The overwhelming problem of drug addiction must be regarded from the point of view of a single addict and from the point of view of the total addictive society.

All health agencies and educators must join forces in seeking and employing every possible means to eradicate the desolate, forlorn hopelessness that now stands as a testimonial to our inability to cope with this massive social dilemma.

Homogenizing Our World

By John Chamberlain

President John F. Kennedy wanted to see the world made safe for diversity. But we don't seem to be headed that way. If you ask me, everybody is getting so sensitive about even the mildest expressions of difference that it will soon become impossible to make drama or literature out of anything ethnic, religious, or even psychological.

My fellow perpetrator of columns, Robert C. Ruark of North Carolina, Spain, Kenya and way stations, has been bawling the fate of his performing friend, Dorothy Loudon, who has been stopped by the League for Homogenizing Our Culture, or something of the sort, from singing funny songs about southern cooking. True enough, Rolf Hochhuth's play, "The Deputy," which has been called an insult to the institution of the papacy, managed to reach Broadway in spite of an attempt by various organizations to compel the radio networks to douse their publicity about it. If "The Deputy" is as crude as some critics say it is, it will rightly die of its own badness without the interference of censorship. But other things, far less offensive than "The Deputy," are in danger of being snuffed out by the over-sensitive censoriousness that is running like a prairie fire through our society.

In my home town of Cheshire, Conn., for example, there is something of a flap about the coming Community Theatre production of the thirty-year old comedy "You Can't Take It With You," by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. This hilarious play has grossed some $375,000 in royalties from amateur theatre groups, which, I understand, makes it the all-time leader as an amateur circuit money maker. It has never been picketed to my knowledge in its three decades of lively life.

However, the culture homogenizers among us have made everybody so timorous that the Cheshire Community Theatre doesn't know how to handle the two inoffensively comic Negro parts in the play. No Negroes have volunteered to fill the roles, and the board of directors of the theatre is afraid to present them in black face. So the proposal is to substitute a couple of "dumb" Swedes for the Negro maid Rheba and her boy friend Donald.

The trouble here is that the Swedes also constitute an ethnic group. No Swede in my home town has threatened to picket the forthcoming performance. But what if Cheshire were in Minnesota or Wisconsin?

The whole business would be funny if it didn't have its serious undertones. We have had attempts to rewrite Mark Twain's Negro dialect passages in "Huckleberry Finn." And there have been efforts to get the character of Fagin out of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." Even Shakespeare has been condemned as a racist for making Shylock, in "The Merchant of Venice," a Jew. Yet nobody in his right mind ever considered that Mark Twain was anti-Negro, or that Dickens and Shakespeare were anti-Semitic. Similarly, if a couple of comic parts were to be played in black face in "You Can't Take It With You," it would not prove that George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart were secret segregationists.

How silly can we get? In addition to having Negro parts, "You Can't Take It With You" includes a poverty-stricken Russian Grand Duchess and a "mildly insane" New York family of Dutch antecedents named Vanderhof. Nobody has ever insisted that amateur companies must find Russians to take Russian parts, or Dutchmen to act as Dutchmen. But this will probably come next.

Word Mix-Up

The Russian affinity for folk tales lost the Security Council of the UN 45 minutes of working time the other day. When Britain insisted on speaking first on Cyprus, the Soviet delegate was reminded of a story, in which he seemed to be comparing the British representative to an ox outwitted by a mouse.

The interpreter in English made it come out "ass," and his counterpart rendered it into French as "wolf." This was too much for the Russian. He hadn't intended to call the gentleman from Britain either an ass or a wolf, apparently, and everything ground to a halt while the mixup was straightened out.

There is no record of how the Briton felt about being likened to an ox—particularly one gored with folk tales.

Turn to Pipe-Smoking Detailed

By FRANK CAREY
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP) — I've switched from cigarettes to pipe smoking. If the national production of matches and lighter fluid keeps steady, I think I might make it stick.

Keeping the pipe burning requires so much time and concentration I've scarcely given a thought to cigarettes.

Besides, a variety of compensations have come to light. For example:

There's a strong camaraderie among pipe smokers. They freely swap tobacco and pipe cleaners—and they welcome a novice as though he were a lodge brother. Generous with advice to neophytes, they even offer tips on pipe smoking by wearers of false teeth, which I have escaped so far.

I've regained a measure of youth in the eyes of my daughters, who say: "Dad, you look positively collegiate."

I had been a cigarette smoker for about 30 of my 54 years when the report of the surgeon general's committee finally prompted me to try quit.

I had been reporting scientists' treatises on the health hazards of cigarette smoking for years without giving up cigarettes.

In fact, some of my heaviest smoking has been done while writing such stories.

When the words wouldn't come the way I wanted them to, it was comforting to light a cigarette and inhale deeply. Maybe, too, there was an aspect of having something to do with temporarily idle hands.

Maybe chewing on a pencil would have had the same effect.

At any rate, I've found a pipe to be such a pacifier.

I've picked up some tips about pipes and the art and science of pipe smoking.

Here's a rundown:

Keep your new pipe clean, but you'll never really enjoy it until you build a layer of carbon inside the bowl.

You'd do well to line up a stable of pipes—one for every day in the week — to assure keeping all of them cool smoking.

Don't rush your smoking; and don't chain smoke. If you do, you'll wind up with a tongue that feels like red ants had been at it.

Never inhale — you'll blow your hat off.

You can never hope to get over that ceaseless match-scratching; it's just a cross a pipe smoker has to bear. However, with practice, you'll develop a "smoking rhythm" which will help you keep the fire lit.

However, your pipe has other advantages beyond smoking pleasure. In subfreezing weather, it provides a bit of heat for the nose; and, cradled in the hand, it can prevent frostbite.

If you want to cheat — and still masquerade as a self-disciplined soul — a cigarette crumpled up and shoved into the new pipe's bowl tastes just like a cigarette.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The last day of winter finds business with less to complain about than usual. The three months have dealt more kindly than in some previous years with most businesses. And the prospects are better than average, too.

True, the weather has been more ornery this winter in many sections. Business will be only too glad to see its official end today.

But in general, the economy has risen above this and put on more muscle. Manufacturing output has gained. Retail sales are nicely above a year ago.

Often in February commodity prices ease. But last month and this have seen many rise, particularly for materials used in industry. And price increases in some consumer commodities, if painful to the housewife, at least are giving producer nations, for the first time in several years, more money with which to buy the goods that American producers can turn out. They might even need less foreign aid, too.

Winter's winds haven't chilled the confidence of the American consumer in his assessment of good times ahead. Pollsters say their buying intentions are high and their expectation of prosperous times near peak levels.

The final days of winter have seen the federal income tax cut blossom in larger take - home pay. This helped boost confidence in better days ahead.

What happens when many taxpayers find they have to make larger settlement payments to the Internal Revenue Service because the new withholding rates didn't take out enough is something else again.

The winter also put a number of foreign problems in the deep chill, however temporarily. Sparring for a new round of tariff negotiations, especially with an increasingly protection-minded Europe, is just getting under way.

The new competition may startle some Americans who may have become complacent because U.S. exports have managed to stay nicely ahead of imports, and because an international banking pool has kept the price of gold stable and its flow to other nations at a minimum.

But the last days of winter saw the Soviets resuming their sale of gold in European money market, for the first time this year. This supply helps the West stabilize its own gold reserves. The Soviet Union is believed to be selling to get the money it needs to meet Canadian wheat shipments as soon as winter's grip on the St. Lawrence River is relaxed.

The cold and blustery months also did less than usual damage to construction plans. Total construction contract awards in January were 20 per cent higher than a year ago. Housing starts were at a high level that month. They slipped slightly in February but were still 19 per cent above a year ago.

Business capital spending plans perked up smartly in the waning weeks of winter. This is one of the things that makes the steel industry expect its current high level of activity will continue at least until summer.

Try and Stop Me

THE FIRST TIME Ethel Merman was heard on radio was in the early 30's, when she was a guest on the Eddie Cantor show. Eddie pointed to the microphone and said, "Radio is wonderful. Think of it. Through this little device you will be heard in millions of homes throughout the nation."

"What's the matter with those bums," jeered Ethel. "Too lazy to open a window?"

Guide: I am, but I think now we're in Canada.

3. New Bride: What's worrying you, Joe? Remember your worries now are OUR worries.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

"It just can't happen to us. Children from families like ours could never become dope addicts!"

Such parental disbelief is understandable. It seems impossible that young, vigorous, educated teenage boys and girls, with a lifetime of happiness and fulfillment awaiting them, could be tempted to try narcotics.

But they do. And they come from every kind of home in every level of society. A young person may fall prey to addiction regardless of social, cultural or economic background.

Physicians all over America have had the painful experience of notifying parents that their child is "on drugs." These same physicians have sadly witnessed the progressive deterioration of the total family unit when a child is "hooked" by the clutching, compelling claws of drug addiction.

There is no single answer to the immense problem of controlling and curing addiction. If there is one possible solution, it is prevention.

Know your child. Take an active interest in his habits, his friends, his schools, his jobs, his whereabouts. Give him your steadfast love and devotion, and give him problems and anxieties your sympathetic understanding.

A child thus imbued with a sense of security and stability will rarely be misled into losing himself in the abysmal, distorted and anguished world of addiction.

Marijuana is the first of the stepping-stones from which the deluded, thrill-seeking teenager plunges into the dope-habit with terrifying rapidity. Cocaine with almost inevitable destruction of the human being.

There are some families, so shamed by the knowledge that their child is a dope addict, they actually perpetuate the habit rather than expose it for help. These parents are so fearful of public disgrace that they will waste every dollar of their savings to purchase the dope for their addicted child.

The results of a five-year study on drug addiction have just been released by the National Institute of Mental Health. Its findings offer some promise of relief from the despair that envelops the addict and his family.

The conclusions reached indicate that there is hope for the young addict to be reinstated

As a healthy, productive citizen, through the concentrated and combined efforts of all medical and social agencies.

The National Institute of Mental Health established the following rules which must imperatively be followed if this hope is to be attained:

1. Addiction must be recognized as a chronic illness, requiring long and uninterrupted treatment.

2. The immediate social and psychological needs of the addict require that he be given a job with responsibility to restore his personal dignity and self-respect.

3. The understanding support and co-operation of the addict's family are vital to the program of rehabilitation.

4. Since addicts face one crisis after another, the devoted professional assistance of social workers and physicians must be readily available.

The overwhelming problem of drug addiction must be regarded from the point of view of a single addict and from the point of view of the total addictive society.

All health agencies and educators must join forces in seeking and employing every possible means to eradicate the desolate, forlorn hopelessness that now stands as a testimonial to our inability to cope with this massive social dilemma.

My fellow perpetrator of columnas, Robert C. Ruark of North Carolina, Spain, Kenya and way stations, has been bawling the fate of his performing friend, Dorothy Loudon, who has been stopped by the League for Homogenizing Our Culture, or something of the sort, from singing funny songs about southern cooking. True enough, Rolf Hochhuth's play, "The Deputy," which has been called an insult to the institution of the papacy, managed to reach Broadway in spite of an attempt by various organizations to compel the radio networks to douse their publicity about it. If "The Deputy" is as crude as some critics say it is, it will rightly die of its own badness without the interference of censorship. But other things, far less offensive than "The Deputy," are in danger of being snuffed out by the oversensitive censoriousness that is running like a prairie fire through our society.

In my home town of Cheshire, Conn., for example, there is something of a flap about the coming Community Theatre production of the thirty-year old comedy "You Can't Take It With You," by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. This hilarious play has grossed some $375,000 in royalties from amateur theatre groups, which, I understand, makes it the all-time leader as an amateur circuit money maker. It has never been picketed to my knowledge in its three decades of lively life.

However, the culture homogenizers among us have made everybody so timorous that the Cheshire Community Theatre doesn't know how to handle the two inoffensively comic Negro parts in the play. No Negroes have volunteered to fill the roles, and the board of directors of the theatre is afraid to present them in black face. So the proposal is to substitute a couple of "dumb" Swedes for the Negro maid Rheba and her boy friend Donald.

The trouble here is that the Swedes also constitute an ethnic group. No Swede in my home town has threatened to picket the forthcoming performance. But what if Cheshire were in Minnesota or Wisconsin?

The whole business would be funny if it didn't have its serious undertones. We have had attempts to rewrite Mark Twain's Negro dialect passages in "Huckleberry Finn." And there have been efforts to get the character of Fagin out of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." Even Shakespeare has been condemned as a racist for making Shylock, in "The Merchant of Venice," a Jew. Yet nobody in his right mind ever considered that Mark Twain was anti-Negro, or that Dickens and Shakespeare were anti-Semitic. Similarly, if a couple of comic parts were to be played in black face in "You Can't Take It With You," it would not prove that George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart were secret segregationists.

How silly can we get? In addition to having Negro parts, "You Can't Take It With You" includes a poverty-stricken Russian Grand Duchess and a "mildly insane" New York family of Dutch antecedents named Vanderlog. $2 Billion To Be Spent On Expansion DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says that it will spend $2 billion in 1964 and 1965 for facilities that eventually will employ about 50,000 new workers to build up to 20 per cent more cars.

"This will represent the largest total of capital expenditures that General Motors has ever made in any two-year period in its history — about 30 per cent above what we spent in 1955 and 1956 when our last major expansion was under way," Frederic G. Donner, GM board chairman, said in a speech.

Donner outlined plans for new plants, additions or improvements in facilities at nearly 30 American cities.

He said expansion will continue at major manufacturing plants in England, West Germany and Australia.

GM now has nearly 300,000 hourly rated employees building cars in the United States.

Donner said $1.5 billion will be spent in the United States, some 50 per cent of it in Michigan. Overseas outlays will total nearly $400 million and capital expenditure in Canada will be about $120 million, he said.

The record program is needed to keep pace with a growing market for the automotive industry, the chairman said.

Donner gave these details for GM's expansion program:

- Construction of an assembly plant at Lordstown, Ohio.
- Construction of a metal fabricating plant at Kalamazoo, Mich., and an upholstery trim plant near Tecumseh, Mich.
- Substantial facilities programs at various locations in the United States by all five GM car divisions and by a number of divisions which supply parts and accessories to the car manufacturing and assembly divisions.

Other expansion moves are planned for Detroit, Flint, Bay City, Livonia, Warren, Lansing, Pontiac, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Ypsilanti in Michigan; Janesville, Wis.; Tonawanda, Syracuse and Lockport, N.Y.; Atlanta, Ga.; Arlington, Tex.; Mansfield, Elyria, Cleveland, Defiance, Warren and Dayton, Ohio; Danville, Ill.; and Marion, Kokomo and Anderson, Ind.

NEW YORK (AP) — James Costigan's tender play, "Little Moon of Alban," could not have been a happier choice for NBC's "Hall of Fame" Easter program.

The 90-minute drama Wednesday night was a new production of a play first prnsntd six years ago.

The play was rich in sentiment and often lit by flashes of wit and humor, but has a triumphantly religious theme.

It is the story of a young Irish girl, who shocked and grief-stricken by the death of her fiancé in the "trouble," retreats desperately into a religious order. As a nursing sister, she finds her spiritual strength in her love for a British officer as she nurses him back to health.

Julie Harris, who played the girl in the original version, may be a bit mature but she is such a superb and sensitive actress and so right in the role that the question of age was soon forgotten.

Dirk Bogarde, a handsome young Englishman with some of James Mason's angry good looks, played convincingly and attractively the part of the caustic British lieutenant whose love triumphed over his terrible wounds.

The new character of an attractive young congressman belatedly introduced on CBS' "East Side, West Side" in an effort to improve the series' ratings, was conceivably inspired by a real member of the House of Representatives, New Yorker John Lindsey.

Recommended tonight: Suspense Theatre, NBC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — "A Cause of Anger," with Brian Keith playing a private detective trying to get a patient to a mental health clinic while being followed by person or person.

Vietnamese Rich Due To Go to War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh has reported that he plans a total mobilization that will mean getting Saigon's leisure class out fighting the war.

"It is difficult to admit," Khanh said, "that there are two Viet Nams—one fighting in the countryside, with Saigon feasting every night. In the fight against communism, all must participate. As you have seen, my generals are getting out in the field.

"The morale of the army is higher than before Jan. 30" — the date on which Khanh seized power in a bloodless coup. "The men will fight if they see their leaders with them.

"This is what I mean by total mobilization."

Actually, Khanh's national mobilization order is expected to come as bad news for thousands of wealthy and influential Vietnamese draft dodgers living in Saigon.

A statement from the White House in Washington on Tuesday said that Khanh has informed American authorities he proposed in the near future to put into effect a national mobilization plan that will provide conditions and terms of service in appropriate jobs for all able-bodied South Vietnamese between certain ages.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Barber Pete Madama told police he was "scalped" Wednesday by a young woman complaining of dandruff.

Madama, 75, said the woman came into his shop and began talking about her problem.

Tobacco State Governors Oppose Cigarette Labels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The governors of three major tobacco-growing states have opposed federal plans to label cigarettes with health hazard warnings — a step one congressman said was going "too far, too quick, too soon."

The Federal Trade Commission — proposing to require health warnings on cigarette packages and in cigarette advertisements—heard that complaint from Rep. Alton Lennon, D-N.C., and these arguments from governors:

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky — "Income from tobacco fed me, clothed me and educated me as I grew up. . . . This is an attempt to police an entire industry by imposing on its products regulations that do not apply to other products and force companies . . . to advertise against themselves if they advertise at all."

Gov. Albertis Harrison Jr. of Virginia — "I do not feel that this commission, or any other regulatory body, should adopt any rule or regulation which would directly or indirectly have the effect of prohibition."

Gov. Terr Sanford of North Carolina—"Moderation in the use of cigarettes is likely harmless. . . . Excessiveness in anything is dangerous. . . . If we simply label the cigarette pack and walk away from the problem, we are fooling ourselves, and we are missing a great opportunity."

Sanford said what is needed is more research into the causes and possible cures for cancer, which could be financed by spending a substantial part of the $2 billion in cigarette taxes.

Harrison urged the FTC to "proceed with the utmost caution."

The Virginian said he spoke with awareness of evidence "that immoderate cigarette smoking may be detrimental to health, but with equal awareness that this evidence is not conclusive."

Sanford, whose state leads the nation in the production of fluecured tobacco and cigarettes, said, "The truth of the matter is that we have never begun a massive research attack on the cause and cure of cancer. This is long overdue. The problem is not cigarette smoking alone; it is the cause and cure of cancer."

He added that "we sincerely doubt that smoking in moderation causes any harm." He called for the expenditure of "a substantial part" of the $2 billion in federal tobacco revenues for research into all forms of cancer.

Tobacco State Governors Oppose Cigarette Labels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The governors of three major tobacco-growing states have opposed federal plans to label cigarettes with health hazard warnings — a step one congressman said was going "too far, too quick, too soon."

$2 Billion To Be Spent On Expansion

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says that it will spend $2 billion in 1964 and 1965 for facilities that eventually will employ about 50,000 new workers to build up to 20 per cent more cars.

"This will represent the largest total of capital expenditures that General Motors has ever made in any two-year period in its history — about 30 per cent above what we spent in 1955 and 1956 when our last major expansion was under way," Frederic G. Donner, GM board chairman, said in a speech.

Donner outlined plans for new plants, additions or improvements in facilities at nearly 30 American cities.

He said expansion will continue at major manufacturing plants in England, West Germany and Australia.

GM now has nearly 300,000 hourly rated employees building cars in the United States.

Donner said $1.5 billion will be spent in the United States, some 50 per cent of it in Michigan. Overseas outlays will total nearly $400 million and capital expenditure in Canada will be about $120 million, he said.

The record program is needed to keep pace with a growing market for the automotive industry, the chairman said.

Donner gave these details for GM's expansion program:

—Construction of an assembly plant at Lordstown, Ohio.

—Construction of a metal fabricating plant at Kalamazoo, Mich., and an upholstery trim plant near Tecumseh, Mich.

—Substantial facilities programs at various locations in the United States by all five GM car divisions and by a number of divisions which supply parts and accessories to the car manufacturing and assembly divisions.

Other expansion moves are planned for Detroit, Flint, Bay City, Livonia, Warren, Lansing, Pontiac, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Ypsilanti in Michigan; Janesville, Wis.; Tonawanda, Syracuse and Lockport, N.Y.; Atlanta, Ga.; Arlington, Tex.; Mansfield, Elyria, Cleveland, Defiance, Warren and Dayton, Ohio; Danville, Ill.; and Marion, Kokomo and Anderson, Ind.

Welcome Gifts For Any Occasion

By ELEANOR ROSS
No matter the season, there are always gifts to be chosen and bestowed. And no matter when one shops for gifts, there are invariably pretty and not too expensive items to be discovered without too much of a search.

Some of the most delightful and useful little gifts we have found (and received) are the "little nothings" — the smart little items no woman has to have but likes to get because she just couldn't do without them!

One example is the handsome "gold kid" hostess apron that isn't kid at all, but is glittering, looks like gold vinyl plastic. And that, of course, makes it easier to keep clean and sparkling.

All that is required is a swish over with a sudsy sponge. The apron comes in two parts — a floor-length skirt and a detachable bib top. This adds to its usefulness and makes it an extra thoughtful little gift.

Sometimes it's quite a job to find something for someone off for a cruise or a southern holiday.

Right up to the minute is a set consisting of a pretty calico hat and matching bag, imported from Italy. The hat is available in two versions, one, a floppy-brimmed style, the other a "baker's hat" type of turban. Both are becoming. These, too, can be swished in suds and dry quickly.

By no means a "little nothing" but quite an impressive affair is a robe that is both practical and luxurious, a robe with a soft, downy, velvet look that isn't velvet at all. The velvet look is achieved with an all-nylon knit fabric that goes into the washing machine and comes out with its downy beauty unimpaired.

Robes in this fabric come in a range of rich colors and are styled with soft, round, lace collars and string ties. And they pop into the dryer so there's no need to iron the rich, beautiful pile.

If you want to make a gift impressive, especially if it is of the "little nothing" order, wrap it in a gaily patterned, colorful terrycloth towel, much more practical than fragile gift paper and a nice change.

When planning this type of "wrapping," it is a good idea to coordinate the design or color scheme of the towel with the contents if the package.

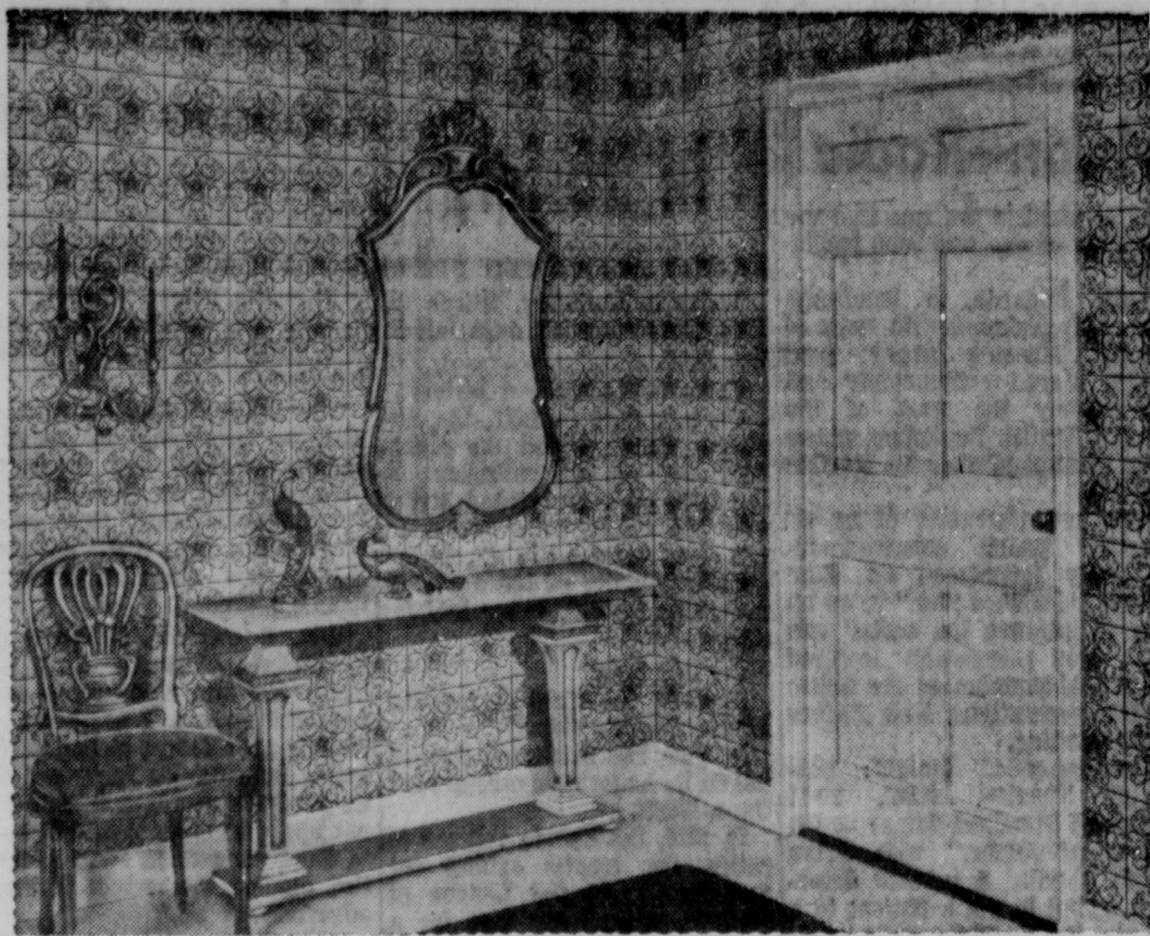

A feminine floral pattern is a nice idea for frilly bath accessories or pretty slippers. A clown design is perfect for a gift for a child. A highly decorative wash cloth is nice wrapping for a pint size gift.

The technique of wrapping with towels is standard except that straight pins or corsage pins are used as fasteners. Then "garnish" to suit with ribbons, a bow, a flower, an ornament.

And remember that the idea is perfect for kitchen and linen showers.

Flowers used in decorating were glads, mums and carnations. White paper bells, with a silver 25 in the center, were also used. The table centerpiece was a cathedral with little white bells inside. The large white cake, decorated with green icing and tiny silver bells, bore the message "Congratulations, Paul and Elaine."

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Davis, Mrs. Henry Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stonerock, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown, Franklin Brown, Bernard M. Practical Entrance Hall

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
Does your home make a good first impression?

It does if the entry is appealing, for this is the first area an incoming guest views as he steps over the threshold.

Because it's small or because it's long and narrow, the entry hall is often neglected when some decorating's being done.

What can you do with an off-size area that's not even a room?

You can make it eye-catching in a number of ways.

Bring color and pattern to walls with wallpaper.

Frame the front door itself with decorative hangings — pictures, planters or plaques.

Hang a mirror for decoration and for a practical purpose, too. You can check your reflection in it before sallying forth for a public appearance.

If space permits, place a console table in the hall. It makes a handy spot for hat and gloves while you or your guests are slipping coats on or off.

If a stairway ascends from the entry hall, take it into consideration when you decorate.

See that the stairway wall carries out the color scheme set by the entry.

Don't let wall space go to waste, either. You can achieve a very decorative effect by placing pictures or plaques so they climb the stairway wall.

Use these ideas and others to decorate so incoming guests will open your door on a really grand entrance.

Dear Abby: Need You Ask?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 49 and have been going with a 51-year-old man for the past two years. He has been wonderful to me. He takes me to nice places and buys me lovely things. He asked to marry me, so I took him over to meet my son and daughter-in-law one evening. Well, it seems my daughter-in-law became interested in him (she is 28) and I was told that she called him up and invited him over when her husband wasn't home. My son travels three days a week, so she has a clear field. I notice when my son is out of town, his wife is never home and I can't find my friend, either. He takes me out only when she can't go. They have three little children, Abby, and now I feel guilty for taking him over there. Although she ran after him, if my son finds out he will half-kill my friend. I need this man because we had plans of marriage. What should I do?

HAS TROUBLES

DEAR HAS: Drop your friend and tell him why. He'll undoubtedly pass the word on to your daughter-in-law and it might scare some sense into them. A woman with a two-timing friend doesn't know what trouble is until she has a two-timing husband.

DEAR ABBY: This is being written by FOUR women who are all in agreement on a neighborhood problem. There is a young, widowed woman in our neighborhood who is very well proportioned. She strings a clothesline across her FRONT porch. It is very embarrassing to see her flimsy nightgowns and all the underthings that women wear flapping in the breeze. What do you suppose she is advertising?

DISGUSTED NEIGHBORS
DEAR DISGUSTED: She is "advertising" the fact that she has no clothes dryer. Neither has she a man to set up a clothesline in her back yard.

DEAR ABBY: I can understand how one of those store-bought "ACCEPT MY SYMPATHY" cards would be acknowledged with an equally impersonal printed one stating, "The family of . . . wishes to thank you." But, Abby, when a person goes to the trouble to write an expression of sympathy in his own hand, don't you think he is deserving of a personal "thank you" note?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: Yes. But I am in the minority. I am amazed at the number of supposedly well-bred people who do not know that one original, handwritten sentence is more meaningful (and in better taste) than the most elaborately printed or engraved message.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RELIEVED": The letter to which you refer could not have concerned your husband. It did not come from any of the cities you mentioned.

Frying apple rings in butter or bacon fat? Sprinkle with a little sugar and cinnamon as the apples cook. You can make up the sugar-cinnamon mixture to have on hand to use as a topping for French toast, buttered toast and muffins as well as for the apple rings.

Foreign Aid Plan Offered By Johnson

The main change sought by the President from the existing foreign aid process was his request that Congress provide a "continuing authorization" for military assistance.

The administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower made a similar request but failed to get Congress' approval.

Under the present system, Congress must vote a new authorization each year for the arms and economic aid program. Under Johnson's proposal, only economic assistance would need new authorization, although the arms program still would be subject to annual review by the Senate and House authorizing committees.

The congressional appropriations committees would, however, still have to vote on the amount of funds each year for the program.

Johnson said he has ordered David Bell, director of the Agency for International Development, which handles foreign aid to cut 1,200 employees by the end of next fiscal year. This is 400 more than the force reduction figure in his January budget message.

Further emphasizing what he termed "steadily increasing efficiency in assistance operations," Johnson said:

1. Foreign aid saves American taxpayers several times the money they would have to add to the U.S. defense budget if they did not have the program supporting U.S. allies abroad.

2. The $3.4 billion will not be spread all around the world but will be focused where it will produce the best results, and aid-receiving countries will be prodded to become self-supporting. Johnson said 14 countries are approaching the point where U.S. gifts and easy-term loans will no longer be needed.

3. More will be done to use private enterprise in overseas development, including proposed legislation for special tax credits for U.S. businessmen investing in backward lands.

4. Greater foreign aid contributions will be sought from other free world industrial countries.

5. The aid program will be operated with increasing efficiency under "firm foreign policy guidance from the secretary of state."

The Agency for International Development will continue to manage economic programs. The Defense Department will run arms aid, under co-ordination through AID.

Johnson said he had decided to continue this existing set-up after careful study. Last December he named a committee headed by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to see what changes might be made.

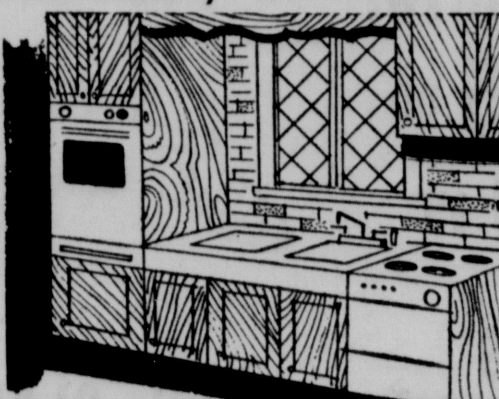

The Ball committee considered a wide variety of alternatives but reportedly wound up with a conclusion that the existing system should basically be continued. Johnson has, however, ordered AID to reduce the number of its separate missions overseas.

Big Portion of Taxes Paid By Utilities Go to Schools

Combined electric company real estate taxes in Ohio which go to support schools represent the largest tax portion paid by the utilities.

More than 30 - million dollars annually is poured into the county coffers by Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company and seven other investor - owned companies, according to C&SOE spokesmen.

This money is more than the tax total spent in one year on public education in a city the size of Columbus.

E. G. Parsons, division manager at Circleville, location of the Pickaway Generating Station, said the Electric Co. will pay a total of $397,807 in taxes to Pickaway County alone. Seventy-seven per cent of this amount or $304,946, goes for school purposes.

Included in tax funds set aside for new construction and repairs. General expenses include salaries, maintenance and a miscellaneous array of continuing costs necessary to keep pace with the growing enrollment in Pickaway County Schools.

New roads and bridges, street maintenance, health and welfare and police and firemen's pensions are some of the items included in the sum allowed for use in Pickaway County.

The Company's total tax bill for 1963 including property, federal, state and local taxes, amounted to approximately $15,933,000, equivalent to 23.4 cents of every dollar of revenue.

East German Sovereignty Labeled Farce

BERLIN (AP)—An East German policeman manning a roadblock in an East German town stopped a car bearing the license plates of a Western country and told the Western driver he could not proceed without a special permit.

A Soviet official was a passenger in the car and told the driver not to worry. "Here I am the chief," the Russian said. He shouted a few words in Russian.

The policeman snapped to attention, saluted and without inspecting any papers at all waved the car through the roadblock.

"Is that what you mean when you speak of the sovereignty of East Germany?" the Westerner asked.

The Russian grinned and replied: "Konetchno" (of course). This incident is one example of what happens on a low level when an East German tries to exercise "sovereignty" vis-a-vis a Russian.

East Germany, or the German Democratic Republic as the regime calls it, celebrates next Wednesday its 10th anniversary as a sovereign state. On March 25, 1954, the Soviet Union declared the military occupation of the Soviet Zone had ended. It said the German government, installed in 1949, had full sovereignty. This declaration was formalized in a treaty a year later.

There is evidence that the sovereignty is a farce.

The regime led by Lenin-bearded Walter Ulbricht seems more closely controlled by the Kremlin than any other Soviet satellite.

East German party functionaries heatedly deny this. But when Ulbricht built his wall through Berlin in 1961, to stop the escape of refugees, Nikita Khrushchev said: "I authorized the wall to be built and I am proud of it."

Official statements, however, are careful to emphasize sovereignty. When talking about more than 300,000 Soviet troops stationed in East Germany, the phrase always is: "The troops of the Soviet Union stationed by mutual agreement temporarily in the German Democratic Republic."

These troops live almost entirely off East Germany. Officers and men receive half their pay in East marks, which are not freely convertible even within the East bloc.

Ulbricht has no choice. He needs Soviet backing. When the East German people revolted in 1953, the Soviet army put down the uprising.

After 10 years East Germany still is seeking international recognition. Outside the Communist bloc, only the new government of Zanzibar has recognized Ulbricht's regime.

by MARGARET A. THOMAS

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis arrived home Wednesday night from Sarasota Florida. They cut short their stay in Florida, when they were informed of the illness of Mr. Ed Hatcher.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kauffman of Springfield came on Saturday to visit over Sunday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Sunderland.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gibson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rosier and family at Lancaster. Other guests were Mrs. Donna Tobin and son, Randy.

Mrs. Cecil Bower gave a luncheon Friday at the Valley House in Chillicothe. Mrs. Winston Hood, who is leaving Kingston soon, was the guest of honor. The luncheon table was decorated with a pink floral arrangement and pink candles. A gift was presented Mrs. Hood from the group, and individual joke gifts provided fun.

Those present, besides the hostess and guest of honor, were: Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. John B. Thomas, Mrs. Clarence Lyons, Mrs. Carroll Minor, Mrs. Raymond Davis and Mrs. Dwight Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland attended the Fred Waring Show, Monday night at the Veteran's Memorial in Columbus.

More than 3,500 years ago, a writer in what is now Iraq inscribed this proverb on a clay tablet: "You can have a lord, or you can have a king, but the man to fear is the tax collector."

East German Sovereignty Labeled Farce

BERLIN (AP)—An East German policeman manning a roadblock in an East German town stopped a car bearing the license plates of a Western country and told the Western driver he could not proceed without a special permit.

A Soviet official was a passenger in the car and told the driver not to worry. "Here I am the chief," the Russian said. He shouted a few words in Russian.

The policeman snapped to attention, saluted and without inspecting any papers at all waved the car through the roadblock.

"Is that what you mean when you speak of the sovereignty of East Germany?" the Westerner asked.

The Russian grinned and replied: "Konetchno" (of course). This incident is one example of what happens on a low level when an East German tries to exercise "sovereignty" vis-a-vis a Russian.

East Germany, or the German Democratic Republic as the regime calls it, celebrates next Wednesday its 10th anniversary as a sovereign state. On March 25, 1954, the Soviet Union declared the military occupation of the Soviet Zone had ended. It said the German government, installed in 1949, had full sovereignty. This declaration was formalized in a treaty a year later.

There is evidence that the sovereignty is a farce.

The regime led by Lenin-bearded Walter Ulbricht seems more closely controlled by the Kremlin than any other Soviet satellite.

East German party functionaries heatedly deny this. But when Ulbricht built his wall through Berlin in 1961, to stop the escape of refugees, Nikita Khrushchev said: "I authorized the wall to be built and I am proud of it."

Official statements, however, are careful to emphasize sovereignty. When talking about more than 300,000 Soviet troops stationed in East Germany, the phrase always is: "The troops of the Soviet Union stationed by mutual agreement temporarily in the German Democratic Republic."

These troops live almost entirely off East Germany. Officers and men receive half their pay in East marks, which are not freely convertible even within the East bloc.

Ulbricht has no choice. He needs Soviet backing. When the East German people revolted in 1953, the Soviet army put down the uprising.

After 10 years East Germany still is seeking international recognition. Outside the Communist bloc, only the new government of Zanzibar has recognized Ulbricht's regime.

Gov. James A. Rhodes was one of three scheduled speakers for this afternoon's meeting, along with C. A. Foster Jr. of Chicago, a vice president of Shell Oil Co., and Richard E. Erickson, a Palatine, Ill., service station operator.

JUST THREE OF THE MANY REASONS FOR JOINING

1. Honorable Service. The button of The American Legion testifies to your honorable service during World War I, World War II or the Korean conflict.
2. Americanism. By being a member, the veteran gives full support to the principles of Americanism through which un-American influences are counteracted. He supports patriotic education and helps make all communities better places in which to live.

HEART ASSN. PROJECT — Dr. Manuel Sanguily (center), new president of the Pickaway County Heart Assn., today presented four educational heart models to county and city school superintendents. Viewing one of the scale models are George McDowell (left) of the county school system and Fritz Jacobs, city schools. One heart model, plus literature kits, will be placed in each high school. These aids were purchased with monies collected through the local Heart Fund. Dr. Sanguily said although more than half of all funds raised go directly into heart research, a small percentage is set aside for local educational purposes. He added that different projects will be planned to help citizens of this community better understand heart disease in an effort to erase this nation's No. 1 killer.

1963 Gas Tax Distributions Announced

Local Governments
In Pickaway County
Receive $426,240

A county-by-county breakdown of the distribution of gasoline taxes totaling $56,624,296 to the local governments during the 1963 calendar year, has just been completed by State Auditor Roger W. Tracy.

Local governments in Pickaway County received a total of $426,240 of which $240,000 went for county highways, while township roads received $126,000, and $60,240 was earmarked for streets within the municipalities.

Aside from the equal distribution to the counties, each township received $8,400, or a total of $11,124,800, while the municipalities received $24,379,496, which was shared upon the basis of $7.50 for each car registered.

Records show that since the state began collecting the tax on gasoline in 1925, collections have reached $2,940,274,027. In contrast to the receipts of $12,667,504 in 1925, the 1963 receipts were $235,750,348.

The state last year received 57.34 cents of every dollar collected for highways and administration; Local governments received 24.01 cents of every dollar, while 14.28 cents went for HEART ASSN. PROJECT — Dr. Manuel Sanguly (center), new president of the Pickaway County Heart Assn., today presented four educational heart models to county and city school superintendents. Viewing one of the scale models are George McDowell (left) of the county school system and Fritz Jacobs, city schools. One heart model, plus literature kits, will be placed in each high school. These aids were purchased with monies collected through the local Heart Fund. Dr. Sanguly said although more than half of all funds raised go directly into heart research, a small percentage is set aside for local educational purposes. He added that different projects will be planned to help citizens of this community better understand heart disease in an effort to erase this nation's No. 1 killer.

Thinclads Open At Lancaster

The Circleville High School track squad is the first of local spring sports teams to begin competition this year.

The Tiger thinclads have a meet scheduled tomorrow at Lancaster with the Golden Gales. Time trials have been completed by the tracksters and the traveling team for tomorrow is set.

"We'll have a young team this year," track coach Jim Lint commented. "I had counted on 11 seniors on the squad but right now I'm down to three."

Howard Fletcher, veteran performer in the shot and discus is working and cannot compete. Tom McDonald injured his knee and has had an operation. Jerry Shasteen is currently under the weather with an attack of bronchitis.

"THE FUTURE could be bright for Circleville track teams," Lint said. "The boys are all working hard."

The dashes are the questionable spot on the team according to Lint.

Tigers who have qualified for tomorrow's trip are Mansil Hurlburt, Doug Price and Eddie Smith in the 100 yard dash; Price, Hurlburt and Tim Stonerock in the 220; Doug Pontious, Tom Jenkins, Ronnie and Charles Smith in the 440; Jim Wood and Larry Plum in the 120 high hurdles; Wood, Plum and Mike Martindale in the 180 low hurdles; Dick Butz, Charlie Hurley and Larry Morgan in the mile; Hurley, Lyman

UCLA Favored On Eve of NCAA Tourney

Semifinals Slated For Friday with Finals Saturday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—UCLA ruled a slight favorite, Duke was conceded the experience, Michigan the manpower and Kansas State the darkhorse role today as four teams arrived in Kansas City for the NCAA basketball semifinals.

All four scheduled late afternoon loosening up drills in Municipal Auditorium as their last workouts before Friday night's semifinals. The title game will be played Saturday before a sell-out crowd of about 10,500 and a national television audience.

The semifinal pairings have Michigan vs. Duke in the first game and UCLA vs. Kansas State in the second.

Duke Coach Vic Bubas said he would close his workout to the press and public for about 20 minutes, while the others scheduled open sessions.

"There's not much else you can do now," Kansas State Coach Tex Winter said Wednesday. "If you aren't prepared now, forget it."

"We're as ready as we'll ever be," said John Wooden, coach of UCLA's top-ranked and unbeaten Bruins.

Only Michigan reported any physical ailments. Wolverine Coach Dave Strack said Sophomore backcourt ace Cazzie Russell still has some tenderness around an ankle injured against Purdue.

"But he's been resting it and should be able to go full speed Friday," Strack said. "It's not that serious."

None of the four teams ever has won the title and only Kansas State has been in a championship game—in 1951 when it lost to Kentucky.

Duke was third last year. All its starters played on that team.

"The experience should be helpful," Bubas said. "They've been through this before and know what it's like. It should help us."

UCLA, which built its 28-0 record and No. 1 national rating on speed and passing, comes in with the smallest team. No Bruin starter is over 6-feet-5.

"We've learned to live with our lack of height," Wooden said. "We make up for it by quickness."

Michigan, No. 2 in the nation and the Big Ten co-champion with a 22-4 over-all record, makes the most of its physical strength in a powerful rebounding game.

"Rebounding is our forte," Strack said. "We believe that rebounding wins most ball games, and that's what we do best."

Duke, the nation's No. 3 team and the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, has a 25-4 mark and one of the country's top performers in backcourt man Jeff Mullins, who has a 24.4 scoring average.

"We're primarily a running team," Bubas said.

Kansas State, the Big Eight champ, is the only unranked team in the field but has a 22-5 record, including 13 straight.

The Wildcats offer a good zone defense, built around 7-foot Roger Suttner.

State Board Plans Probe at Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission plans to conduct its own probe into race collusion charges at Scioto Downs.

The United States Trotting Association handed out penalties to seven harness drivers Tuesday after a four-month investigation disclosed what officials termed collusion. The USTA said the irregularities occurred in about a half-dozen races late in the 1963 season at the track south of Columbus.

Racing Commission Chairman Lawrence A. Ramey said he will set a date for a public hearing on the matter as soon as he receives information gathered by the USTA in the probe.

Stuart, Bosox Wrangle Over His 'B' Squad Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dick Stuart, the American League's comeback player of 1963, never will win any comeback awards for controversy. He is always on top in that department.

Boston's big first baseman got off to a fast start in his title defense Wednesday with his performance in the Red Sox' "B" exhibition game against San Francisco.

Stuart, miffed at being relegated to a secondary game, jogged to first base twice on ground balls and later failed to score from second on a two-out ground single to right field even though he was waved around.

"What do you expect?" Stuart said angrily after the game when someone remarked about his performance. "That's as good as I'm going to be in that kind of a game. I thought I was through with those games 10 years ago."

Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky, who reportedly had differences of opinion with Stuart before, called the slugger selfish for the "awful exhibition" he put on in Boston's 3-1 defeat.

Pesky, who used his regulars in the morning "B" contest and rookies against the Chicago Cubs in the regular game in the afternoon, said he hadn't talked with Stuart about the performance.

"I did it deliberately," the manager said. "I wanted to wait until tomorrow (Thursday) after sleeping on it. I do intend to talk with him about his behavior. And if he and I don't see things the right way, then (general manager) Mike Higgins will talk to him."

"I thought the regulars would like this afternoon to themselves and their families, and I feel that most of them appreciated it. But not Stuart. Apparently he thinks playing in a 'B' game is below his dignity or something."

Pesky couldn't understand why it mattered which game Stuart played in.

Stuart, who led the league in RBI last season, said he played as he did "because I don't want to get hurt playing in 'B' games."

He later expressed regret, saying:

"I am an employee of the Red Sox, and I am paid by them. I will do anything I'm told to do. I didn't mean to cause any trouble. I'm sorry it happened."

The Boston rookies lost to the Cubs 10-9 on Mack Kuykendall's bases-loaded, two-run single in the ninth.

In other exhibition action, San Francisco continued its mastery over Cleveland, 15-13. The Los Angeles Dodgers got eight innings of shutout pitching from Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres in beating Baltimore 3-1.

The New York Yankees drubbed Kansas City 9-4 as Joe Pepitone slugged a grand slam home run. Hoyt Wilhelm hurled three perfect innings as the Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 3-2.

Detroit handed St. Louis its first loss in five games, 13-4.

Milwaukee scored seven earned runs off Camilo Pascual and defeated Minnesota 7-4. Houston bombed Cincinnati 9-2 and the New York Mets whipped Philadelphia 4-1 in 10 innings.

2 Rookie Hurlers Get Indian Nod

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Two rookies were scheduled to pitch for the Cleveland Indians in a Cactus League game against the Boston Red Sox at Scottsdale today.

Pitching coach Early Wynn said Wednesday that southpaw Tommy John will start and work four or five innings. He is to be followed by Gordon Seyfried, who hurled five shut-out innings against the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

John, who made his spring debut against the Cubs Saturday, has given up three hits and two runs in the three innings he's pitched. Seyfried has allowed 10 hits and four runs in eight innings.

The San Francisco Giants clobbered two veteran Cleveland pitchers Wednesday in winning a 15-13 decision at Phoenix. The triumph was the Giants' fourth straight over the Indians.

San Francisco got seven runs on 10 hits off starter Gary Bell in 1 2-3 innings and tagged his successor, Don McMahon, for eight runs and eight hits in 1 1-3 innings.

The two teams sent 41 players into the game, in which there were 40 hits and 8 errors.

Veterans Jack Kralick, Pete Ramos and Ted Abernathy also hurled for the Indians.

2 Dayton Belmont Aces On AA All-Ohio Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, two players from the same team were named today to the Associated Press All-Ohio high school basketball Class AA first unit.

Bill Hosket and Don May of Dayton Belmont's top-ranked Bison are the talented pair. They not only joined each other on the first team, but they led the balloting by sports writers from all six districts.

Hosket, son of the late Bill Hosket—one of Ohio State's all-time cage greats—topped the vote-getters and gained the "player of the year" accolade.

The two Gem City standouts, and Wayne Lipkins of Canton McKinley, are the only ones of the first three Class AA honorary teams who will appear this week in the state tournament.

The selections were based on pre-tournament play, and the other talented youngsters were swept aside in the long "lose and out" trail to the state meet.

Northeastern Ohio, although it has three teams in the state classic, failed to land a berth on the first team.

Joining Hosket and May were Larry Hise of Portsmouth, Roger Markle of Newark and Walt Piatkowski of Toledo Woodward, rounding out a cast which soon will make its mark on the collegiate boards. All are being wooed by college coaches.

Under a new selection plan, sports editors of Associated Press newspapers and radio-television stations named all-district teams in the areas outlined by the State High School Athletic Association.

Then the district boards, using the all-district selections as a basis, voted for the all-state players. Each voter picked 10 men, with the top choice getting 10 points, second receiving 5, third 8, etc.

Rated in order on the number of points garnered, the selections:

First Team

Bill Hosket and Don May, Dayton Belmont; Larry Hise, Portsmouth; Robert Markle, Newark; Walt Piatkowski, Toledo Woodward.

Second Team

Mike Bietzel, New Philadelphia; Van Evans, Urbana; Bill Hann, Cleveland Rhodes; Ed Waller, Columbus East; Dick Cunningham, Canton South.

Third Team

Larry Davison, Akron Central; Wayne Lipkins, Canton McKinley; Bob Baker, Steubenville; (tie) Tom Coulter, Toronto; Scott Fitzgerald, Athens; Dick Hauke, Cincinnati LaSalle, and Fred Cluff, Hillsboro.

Honorable Mention

Wintersville; Roy Jackson, Canton McKinley; Dave McKellan, Toledo DeVilbiss; Frank McComas, East Liverpool; Rich Goddard, Graham Local; Joe Pratts, Mansfield; Terry Simmons, Dover; Ron Martin, Chillicothe; Larry Hock, Mansfield Madison; Jeff Miller, Lima Senior; Aaron Marsh, Springfield South; Cecil Jackson, Fostoria; Arnie Fontes, Canton McKinley; Roger Fulton, Marietta; John Dodd, Bellefontaine; Bob Goodridge, Wyoming; Jim West, Kenton; Rick Snider, Lima Shawnee; Tom Schlager, Columbus Bishop Hartley, and Conan Elliott, Warren Local.

The San Francisco Giants clobbered two veteran Cleveland pitchers Wednesday in winning a 15-13 decision at Phoenix. The triumph was the Giants' fourth straight over the Indians.

San Francisco got seven runs on 10 hits off starter Gary Bell in 1 2-3 innings and tagged his successor, Don McMahon, for eight runs and eight hits in 1 1-3 innings.

The two teams sent 41 players into the game, in which there were 40 hits and 8 errors.

2 Dayton Belmont Aces On AA All-Ohio Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, two players from the same team were named today to the Associated Press All-Ohio high school basketball Class AA first unit.

Bill Hosket and Don May of Dayton Belmont's top-ranked Bison are the talented pair. They not only joined each other on the first team, but they led the balloting by sports writers from all six districts.

Hosket, son of the late Bill Hosket—one of Ohio State's all-time cage greats—topped the vote-getters and gained the "player of the year" accolade.

The two Gem City standouts, and Wayne Lipkins of Canton McKinley, are the only ones of the first three Class AA honorary teams who will appear this week in the state tournament.

The selections were based on pre-tournament play, and the other talented youngsters were swept aside in the long "lose and out" trail to the state meet.

Northeastern Ohio, although it has three teams in the state classic, failed to land a berth on the first team.

Joining Hosket and May were Larry Hisle of Portsmouth, Roger Markle of Newark and Walt Piatkowski of Toledo Woodward, rounding out a cast which soon will make its mark on the collegiate boards. All are being wooed by college coaches.

Under a new selection plan, sports editors of Associated Press newspapers and radio-television stations named all-district teams in the areas outlined by the State High School Athletic Association.

Then the district boards, using the all-district selections as a basis, voted for the all-state players. Each voter picked 10 men, with the top choice getting 10 points, second receiving 5, third 8, etc.

Rated in order on the number of points garnered, the selections:

First Team

Bill Hosket and Don May, Dayton Belmont; Larry Hisle, Portsmouth; Robert Markle, Newark; Walt Piatkowski, Toledo Woodward.

Second Team

Mike Bietzel, New Philadelphia; Van Evans, Urbana; Bill Hann, Cleveland Rhodes; Ed Waller, Columbus East; Dick Cunningham, Canton South.

Third Team

Larry Davison, Akron Central; Wayne Lipkins, Canton McKinley; Bob Baker, Steubenville; (tie) Tom Coulter, Toronto; Scott Fitzgerald, Athens; Dick Haucke, Cincinnati LaSalle, and Fred Cluff, Hillsboro.

Honorable Mention

Wintersville; Roy Jackson, Canton McKinley; Dave McKellan, Toledo DeVilbiss; Frank McComas, East Liverpool; Rich Goddard, Graham Local; Joe Pratts, Mansfield; Terry Simons, Dover; Ron Martin, Chillicothe; Larry Hock, Mansfield Madison; Jeff Miller, Lima Senior; Aaron Marsh, Springfield South; Cecil Jackson, Fostoria; Arnie Fontes, Canton McKinley; Roger Fulter, Marietta; John Dodd, Bellefontaine; Bob Goodridge, Wyoming; Jim West, Kenton; Rick Snider, Lima Shawnee; Tom Schlager, Columbus Bishop Hartley, and Conan Elliott, Warren Local.

Warrior '5' Wins Division Title in NBA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"We had to go into every game as a real physical battle," explained Coach Alex Hannum whose San Francisco Warriors surprisingly are the Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association today.

"We realized very early on No. 1 asset was size and strength. We don't have the skills, experience and outside shooting of some other clubs.

"So we take what we do have and exploit it."

San Francisco edged Philadelphia 89-85 in the season finale Wednesday night. The Warriors learned just before the game that they were the champions. When Detroit beat St. Louis 106-96 in Detroit, it eliminated the Hawks chance to tie for the top spot.

In the only other game, the Baltimore Bullets beat Eastern champion Boston 108-95 on Gus Johnson's last half surge when he scored 23 of his 28 points.

Now come the playoffs with the champions resting the first week with the second and third place teams battling. Los Angeles plays at St. Louis on Saturday in the first Western game to determine which will meet San Francisco in the best four of seven.

On Sunday in Cincinnati, the Royals play host to the Philadelphia 76ers in the start of the series to determine Boston's challenger.

Semifinals Due Tonight In NIT Play

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be "Happy" vs. "The Big I" tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation college basketball tournament as the NYU Violets tangle with the New Mexico Lobos. Army's upset-minded Cadets meet the Bradley Braves in the other semifinal game.

"Happy" is Harold Hairston, a 6-foot-7 ace rebounder and scorer from Winston-Salem, N.C. who has sparked the Violets to upset victories over Syracuse and DePaul in the NIT after a disappointing regular season.

"The Big I" is 6-8 Ira Harge from Detroit a similar top rebounder and scorer who has been called the key of the club that tied for the championship of the Western Athletic Conference and beat Drake in Tuesday's quarter-finals.

Their meeting in the first game of a doubleheader expected to draw a capacity 18,000-plus at Madison Square Garden overshadows the second game clash between Bradley and surprising Army. Bradley is a heavy favorite while NYU-New Mexico generally is regarded as a tossup.

Tonight's winners will meet for the championship in a nationally televised game at 4 p.m., EST Saturday afternoon after the losers play for third place.

Farrington Chalks His 41st Sulky Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Karen Purdue, driven by Bob Farrington of Richmond, Ohio, scored a 3½ length-victory over Knight Latch in the Chicago Heights Purse at Washington Park Wednesday night. The winners returned $25.40.

It was the second winner of the night for Farrington after an unsuccessful two days. He now has piloted 41 winners for the meeting.

Pitching Seen As Key Factor For Darby '9'

Lack of Depth May Hurt Trojan Unit In Coming Season

The Darby High School baseball team will be short on numbers this year, but could make up for it on aggressiveness, according to Ned Reichelderfer, Trojan coach.

Reichelderfer anticipates pitching will be the strong point of the team. However a lack of depth at all positions will be noticed.

"If our hitting comes through, we could finish better than last year's runner-up spot in the County League," the Trojan mentor commented.

Returning lettermen include Dan Bowen, southpaw hurler, and Dave Rowland, a right handed pitcher. Bowen has a good fast ball, and Reichelderfer hopes he will be able to develop other pitches to go with it.

BOWEN, a good defensive first sacker, will be playing that position when not pitching.

Rowland's best pitch is his curve. When not on the mound, he will likely play centerfield, where he can cover a lot of ground.

The catching chores will be handled by Gary Liff, a sophomore who saw limited action at that position last year.

Richard Fry will return to third base for the Trojans. The other letterman returning is John Rogers, who will be playing first base when Bowen is pitching. At other times he will be roaming the outfield.

Rogers is considered one of the better hitters on the team. Dave Stewart will start at second base for the Trojans. Lou Gantz, Charles Wickham and Dale Haney will be in the outfield. Wickham is the lone senior on the team.

Delbert Haney, a freshman, will be at shortstop. Rick Mason will fill in at third base and may play somewhere else if his hitting comes through.

Reichelderfer hopes to include games with such perennially strong baseball teams as Dublin, The Plains of Mt. Sterling and Bishop Ready.

After Charlie Drensen took over the Detroit Tigers last June 18, pitcher Phil Regan won six straight games.

U.S. Olympic Prospects Eyed

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of five articles examining U.S. Olympic track and field prospects.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Discus thrower Al Oerter is attempting a feat this year which hasn't been accomplished since 1908—and he's likely to succeed.

The brawny New Yorker is after his third consecutive Olympic gold medal in a single event and he's the most likely to win of all U.S. field event competitors.

American victory hopes are nearly as high in the shot put and hammer throw, but tail off in the javelin.

Oerter is the world record thrower in the discus at 205-5½ but has been closely pursued in recent years by big Jay Silvester, who's thrown far beyond the record in practice.

Olympic veteran Rink Babka is the likely No. 3 American though Bob Humphreys and two-time NCAA champion Dave Weill from Stanford are strong contenders.

Dallas Long stayed out of competition most of 1963 but off his 64-8 indoor mark this year, the former Southern California star is back at the fore of American shot-putting. He should be the Tokyo favorite, but Europeans are rapidly gaining ground on the United States in this event.

A probable four-way fight for the other two U.S. spots should involve three-time Olympian Parry O'Brien, Texas A&M freshman Randy Matson, inconsistent Dave Davis and New York University weight-lifting addict Gary Gubner.

World hammer throw record holder Hal Connolly is one of several Americans trying to atone for dismal performances at the 1960 Games.

After winning the 1956 Olympic title, he slumped to eighth at Rome. He'll return to the United States in May from his Finnish teaching duties and should dominate U.S. hammer throwing.

Though not likely to beat Connolly, veteran Al Hall again should easily make the U.S. team. The third man could be George Frenn, Ed Burke or Bill McWilliams—all veterans who throw in the 200-foot range, far behind Connolly's 231-10 record.

A flock of Americans who'll need 10-to-20 foot improvements to be in javelin medal contention should at least make the struggle for U.S. team berths interesting.

NCAA champ Frank Covelli, formerly of Arizona State, is the most consistent of the group. AAU king Larry Stuart of Southern California, like Covelli, puts his top throw in the mid 260s—but he's erratic. Ex-Oregon Stater Gary Stenlund and Ed Red of Rice are strong threats with Glenn Winningham of Arizona State also a possibility.

$50,000 Doral Gets Under Way

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Firing started today in the $50,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament and when it's all over Sunday any one of many entries might step up and collect the $7,500 first prize.

With Arnold Palmer, last year's record money winner suffering through a victory drought, the balance of power in the field of touring pros is the closest in the game's history.

When Bruce Devlin of Australia won the St. Petersburg Open last Sunday he became the 13th winner in a string of 13 tournaments dating back to the 1963 campaign.

15 Given Chance To Win Ladies' Test

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—According to favorite Kathy Whitworth, anyone of 15 can win the Women's Western Open starting today with a talented field of 100 lady golfers.

Mickey Wright of Dallas, two-time winner and defending champion, fractured her ankle and could not participate. This leaves the title up for grabs by such veterans as Miss Whitworth, Patty Berg, Louise Suggs and a score of the country's top amateurs.

Circleville Youth Baseball Player Registration Set

The Circleville Youth Baseball Program will hold player registrations for the coming season on Mar. 28 and April 3-4-10-11.

The number of teams will be based on registration during the specified dates. This was determined by the board of directors last night at a meeting in the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Any late registrants will be placed on a waiting list and will be assigned to teams as vacancies occur. Roy Farmer, player agent, reported that registration has always been one of the big problems of the program.

Board members recommended the registration dates be announced in the schools and emphasis placed on the fact that teams will be based on early registration.

IN OTHER business conducted by the board, June 6 was set as the date for the annual candy sale. Current plans call for all team members to canvass the area on that day.

Another fund raising project discussed was a fish fry and surplus auction sale. The date for the project has tentatively been set for June 13.

The proposed budget for the youth baseball program for the coming season has been set at $4,485. Three new baseball diamonds will be constructed this year.

The group has received permission to construct a second mosquito league diamond on school property from the Circleville Board of Education. The diamond will be built at the Atwater school, pending approval of the site by the school board. The Mosquito League diamond at Corwin St. School will not be used this year.

Two new diamonds at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds are also slated for construction as soon as weather permits.

Player Agents Joe Gibbs, vice president of the Babe Ruth Leagues, and Roy Farmer of the little leagues, have requested all persons interested in managing a team to contact them as soon as possible.

Clay Says He's Ignorant About Draft Exam Result

NEW YORK (AP)—Cassius Clay claims he is "tuned in on the future," but he admittedly draws a blank when it comes to forecasting his status with the Army.

Amid reports he had again failed to pass the mental part of his draft examinations, the world heavyweight champion said Wednesday that he had not been told, one way or the other.

Official word from the Army in Washington and Clay's draft board in Louisville was the same: "The results have not been disclosed."

The 22-year-old champion failed to pass his first mental exam two months ago in Coral Gables, Fla., and was given a rematch last Friday in Louisville. The Washington Post reported he also flunked the second test, bringing negative responses from Clay, the Pentagon and the draft board.

With Army talk disposed of, Clay turned to other pressing matters: His next fight, business a new home, and his "religion"—the Black Muslims.

"If the commissions would let me I'd like to fight two out of three — Floyd Patterson, Doug Jones and Eddie Machen — on the same night," the youthful champion said.

"And maybe they'll let me I'd have a better chance of losing my title and a lot of people want me to lose.

"They're against me because of my religion."

The Black Muslims claim superiority of the Negro and advocate separation of the races. Clay is not as militant on the subject as leaders of the movement, but he has adopted a new name—Muhammad Ali—and he is increasingly metaphysical in his conversation.

"I'm the first one to predict I'm tuned in on the future," he said. "I can see in a person's mind, what he's thinking. That's because I walk with God and talk with God."

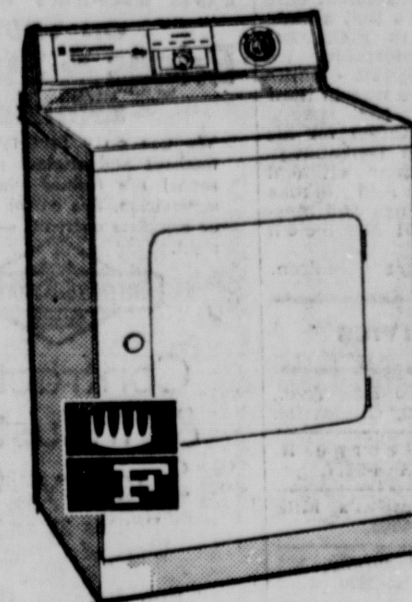

On more mundane matters Clay talked of moving from Louisville to either New York or Chicago—"I need a big city" of opening an office for "a national youth fan club;" of business with a large talent agency and taxes.

Columbia University's winter sports program features basketball, fencing, swimming, track and wrestling.

News of World in Brief

SOUTH LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Two boys, 12 and 7, burned to death early today. Fire destroyed their two-story frame home.

The victims were Darrell Bailey, 12, and his brother, Bill, 7. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bailey; another brother, Danny, 18, and a 2-year-old cousin, Danny Wayne, escaped. The cause was not determined.

The house and all the furnishings were destroyed. The father is an unemployed truck driver. Another son, David, 16, already had left the house for work.

BERLIN, Ohio (AP) — A brother of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge says he hopes the ambassador will return to the United States in June but he isn't sure about it. Ambassador Lodge, now in South Viet Nam, was an upset write-in winner in the recent New Hampshire Republican presidential primary election.

"I do believe that if he does as well in Oregon as we think he's going to, it would create a mighty pull on him to come back," John D. Lodge, brother of the ambassador, told 300 persons at Oberlin College Wednesday night.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting flared up in troubled Cyprus early today with Greek Cypriots reported using mortars against a village of Turkish Cypriots 28 miles west of Nicosia.

It was the first fighting on the east Mediterranean island in a week.

A British army spokesman said firing started at the village of Ghaziveran, said to be surrounded by Greek Cypriots.

First reports said the trouble appeared to start over a roadblock erected by the 500 Turkish Cypriot villagers as a protection.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An Explorer scientific satellite failed to orbit today because of trouble with the third stage of the Delta booster rocket.

The satellite was to have made the most extensive study yet of the earth's ionosphere and was to serve as a tracking target for intense laser light beams flashed from the ground.

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — The president of the University of Illinois has reprimanded Prof. Revilo P. Oliver for an "unreasoned and vitriolic attack on the character and patriotism of President Kennedy."

But President David D. Henry, at a meeting of the school's board of trustees Wednesday, agreed with the board that the classics professor's attack on Kennedy in a John Birch publication was no cause for action against him.

Oliver, 54, wrote last month in "American Opinion" that Americans would cherish Kennedy's memory "with distaste." He suggested that Kennedy may have been assassinated because he had ceased to be useful to a Communist conspiracy.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A woman mistakenly poured her self a cup of boiling cyanide solution instead of coffee, sipped it and died, within five minutes, police said.

"What was it?" were the dying words of Mrs. Adeline M. Kehoe, 57, Wednesday.

It was Mrs. Kehoe's first day on the job at a metals firm.

Officers said she apparently noticed the pot of amber-colored cyanide boiling on the stove and mistook it for coffee. A coffee urn was on a box near by.

The cyanide is used in metal processing.

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Grocery man Ed Booth plans to open as usual today despite a gaping hole in the wall caused by a runaway 50-ton Army tank.

The tank, en route to a nearby training site Wednesday, caught fire and was abandoned on a steep hill. Its brakes knocked and backward it rolled, knocking Booth's store off its foundation.

Booth had taken Wednesday afternoon off, as usual, and no one was in the building when the tank hit.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Little Bradley McDonald, the 5-year-old leukemia victim whose stepfather stole so that his last months might be happy, died Wednesday.

Bradley's stepfather, Gordon James McDonald, 35, served a month in prison last year for stealing $680 from his employer. His original six-month term was reduced by the British Columbia Court of Appeal when it learned McDonald had stolen for Bradley.

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Dick Gregory announced today that his wife, Lillian, gave birth to twin girls Wednesday at the University of Chicago Hospital. The 31-year-old Negro and his wife have two other children.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said he would work for civil rights on several fronts if the Kentucky Legislature fails to pass an anti-bias bill before it adjourns Friday.

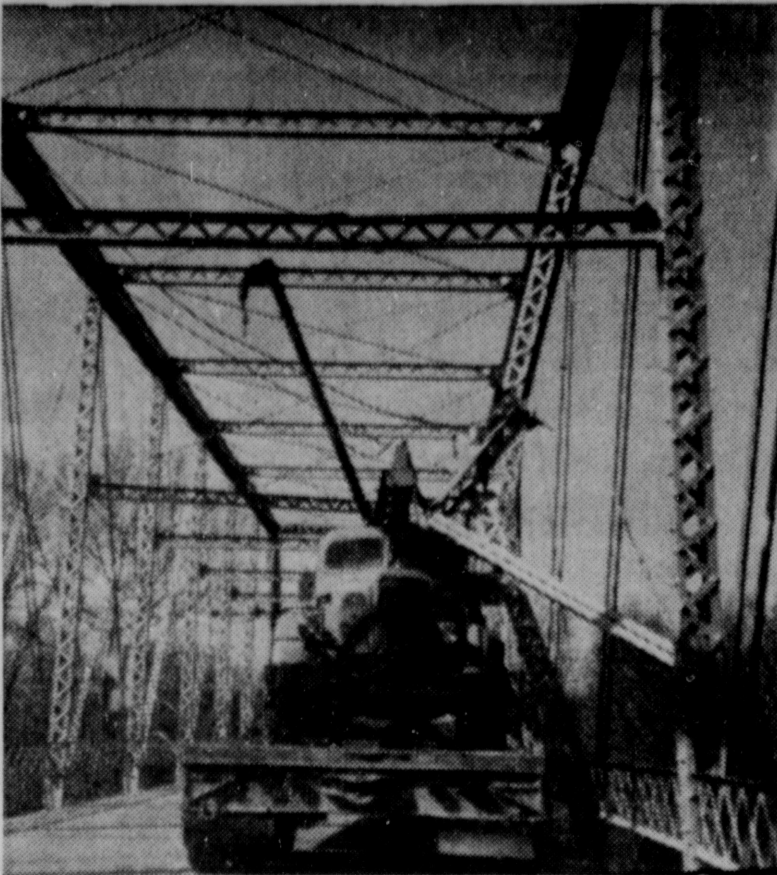

The governor said he would urge mayors and county judges to establish human relations commissions and pass public accommodations bills such as the one approved in Louisville. He added he would work with motel, hotel and restaurant operators in an attempt to assure equal service to all races.

Breathitt's remarks were made on a televised show here Wednesday night.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Judy Garland is a patient at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Hollywood, and her doctor says she may have to undergo an appendectomy.

However, hospital attendants said the 40-year-old entertainer's condition was good.

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Quote of the day: Edward Du Cann, state minister of Britain's Board of Trade to a news conference: "Why the devil do we have to talk like Americans? We no longer meet friends, we 'meet up' with them. We no longer have transportation, we have 'transportation' we no longer document things, we have 'documentation.'"

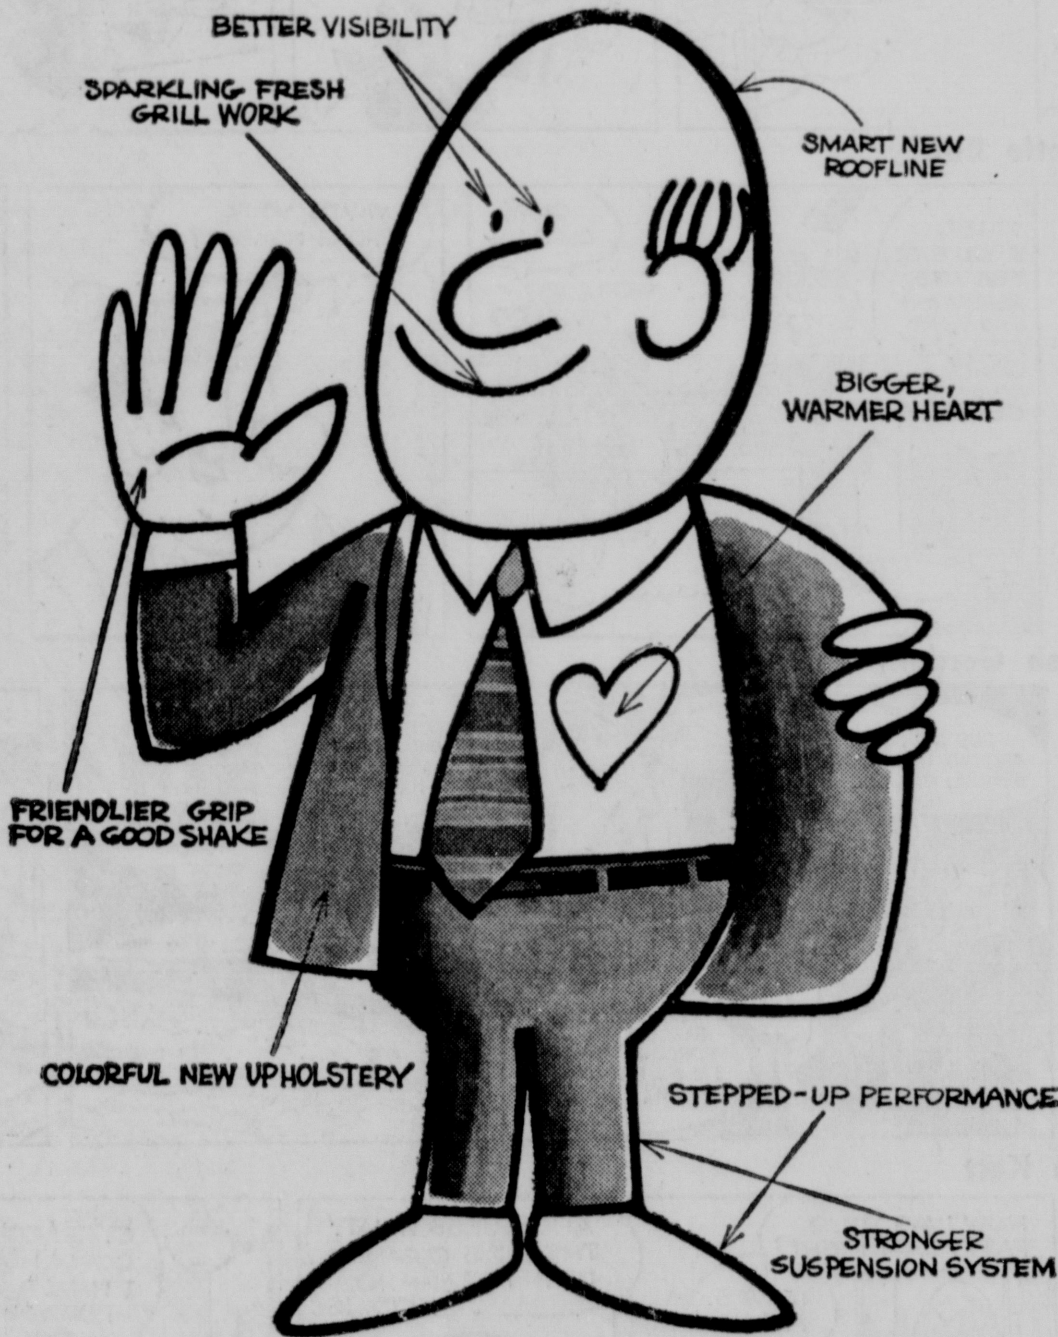

BRIDGE CLOSED — Traffic is being detoured around this bridge spanning the Scioto River on Route 762 pending repair of damage caused yesterday when a truck-mounted crane struck the braces. Spokesmen at the State Highway Garage said the road will be closed about one week. Driver Mason E. Jones, 49, Columbus, was handed a fine of $25 and costs in Municipal Court when he entered a no contest plea to a charge of operating a truck loaded too high. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol. (Sheriff's Department Photo)

CLEVELAND (AP) — Justifiable homicide has been ruled in the fatal shooting of Cleveland policeman James Mangan, 34, by his wife.

William T. Jerome III, president of Bowling Green State University, delivered the commencement address.
